A CAMERA'S EYE VIEW AS THE YEAR BEGINS

*"School days! School days!
Dear old Golden Rule days!"*

THE school days were right enough, but the Arkansas eds and co-ed friends who follow after the Greeks must have either forgotten the second line of the song or in their mad dash after the choice members of the group of first year students they mistakenly read from the text, "Do unto others, before you get done." At any rate that is the impression your correspondent received as he listened to the Pi Phi's glibly chatter, "National Standing," to all of the newcomers, and shuddered while the Sigma Chi's made the startling statement that the real name of the book isn't "Nice Girls Don't Swear," but "Nice Girls Don't Date Sigma Nu's." Of course, at the same time the Chi Omegas were proudly pointing to their Greek Amphitheatre which is really a swell place to skate and—well, skate. The Kappa Sigs got around to cleaning their hotel so it would look inviting to the new lads and they'd believe that it really was a privilege to be allowed to help pay for it. (If you don't believe the cleaning part, see above shot.)

They say that all is fair in love, war, and rushing. After the smoke of battle had floated away on the winds of hot air stirred up by the Greeks, it was easy to be seen that the White Cross brethren had ensnared John Jernigan and Andy Ponder. The Sig Alphas had managed to fill the "barn" again. The Pi Phis were clutching Ann Du Bard and Nan Robinson to their breasts and all the while setting up a mournful dirge for the seven Fayetteville rushees, who, though they had been earmarked as future archery addicts, had suddenly decided they would rather pitch "horse shoes." And the Tri Deltas? Ah, here at last we find perfect peace in the charming scene of Mama Hunt with Ruth Clay sitting on one knee and Ione Otte perched on the other.

On Saturday night the first student stomp of the semester took place. They say that a good time was had by all—I couldn't say. After a year of such riots I should be able to take it, but I bruise so easily! At any rate, Mitch shone in perfect rhythms, in the middle of a flurry of Miss Whatsit, Mr. Whosit, and Hello-how-are-you-fine. (Why doesn't someone develop a new line for the dances?)

Sunday afternoon found the sororities arrayed in their best (and some of them certainly approached the proverbial lilies of the field that had old Solomon beat), awaiting the arrival of the male population of the hill. That is Anne Brown Taylor greeting Hugh Humphries so enthusiastically. Nothing serious, though, just a couple of same hometowners. Arthur (H. R.) Wells, living up to his name of "Sweetheart," is prominent in the crowd at the Pi Phi House, as well as the one at the Chio domicile, but how was he to know that he'd soon be deserting Julia Gunn Duff for that Clay woman from Joplin? These Sunday open house affairs are supposed to be for the benefit of the new lads and lassies, but Hardin seems to be the one dragging them in at the arrow lodge. At least, she was doing quite well, and the newcomer, Beverly Hopper, was forced into the background when our roving photographer passed that way.

"Ditty" Curl, destined to become the light of Bill Lee's life, was also among the merry-makers that bright and sunny afternoon. Her smile is slightly offset by the strained expression on Mary Belle Derrick's face (see illustration above). We wonder where Jimmie McDaniels could have been? Bill Ward among the admiring throng, surrounding the great Nellie B. and Nan Robinson.

But, alas, school is no place for revelry—at least not more than nine-tenths of the time—and 'morrow dawned full of foreboding clouds indicating hours of intelligence tests and freshmen convocations, the first inklings that the new students had of the disillusionment that lay in wait for them . . . college after all is something more than sitting on a grand piano playing a ukulele. Soon they must get their first taste of sitting in a class where they were supposed to behave as college men and women, and display a knowledge of all subjects that would have put Solomon and his cohorts to shame. But before being permitted this delightful recreation, they must taste of the bitter fruit of having the registrar take from their startled clutches the family fortune which had been brought out of its hiding place and entrusted to their care.

Never have we seen a place where people pushed and shoved and stood in line for hours, all for the privilege of tossing away a few hard-earned shekels. But see the line below! When the picture was taken, Jenola Ferguson was so far back that the camera almost missed her, but when we returned five minutes later she had politicked her way to the head of the line. Bob McCann, lurking in the background with that Philo Vance-Sherlock Holmes headgear, must have been looking even then for a good political layout. But where is Hilda Stroud?

With the good old fee system at the University all of the current expenses, debts, salaries, etc., must be met, and one of the new things that the students will get to pay for in 1936-'95 are the new buildings that we were so fortunate to get this year, with the help of Old Uncle Sam and the State of Arkansas. By some chance the building of all these new buildings did not require as much as the contractors expected them to and the result was that approximately one hundred thousand dollars was left over for the boys to then fight for, that is, to get it re-invested on the campus. This was to be done for a new field house, to take the place of the temporary one that we have had for the last twenty years or more. This also became known about the time that the student elections came along and the result was that both of the parties, student, had a lot of material for their platforms (so, what?) and they promised to either get that little nest egg put toward the new field house or pay off the little war debt that the University now owes for the afore-mentioned new buildings. Well, the result was, or rather will be, decided by the new Board of Trustees which the Governor will appoint and the students, as usual, will have their great amount to say in the final outcome of the matter. But it will all come out for the good in the end, and that end is for the ever Greater University of Arkansas, and it is you, and you, and you to help by doing your part. (Was something said about fees?)

Another picture that we failed to get was the ever-active brothers of the White Cross Lodge getting in all of the good work during "Line Time," making those rush dates—some one said that in one of those long, long lines that a man (at the beginning) was pledged to the lodge and that by the time he reached the head of the line, he was proudly displaying the well-known cross. (Fast work, boys, sounds bad for the group on the other hill.) But it sure was too bad we didn't get a picture of the inimitable Gertie Pearson putting it over, by falling into step with Dean Jones and passing up the poor benighted souls who had been standing in line for hours waiting to see the dean. Only a few times a year do we see the students so zealous to do a thing, that they forsake all else to accomplish it. Registration, election day, and securing a copy of the RAZORBACK are among those things which call forth such Herculean effort on the part of Mr. Joseph College. However, there are a few exceptions to the rule, at which time Mr. Joseph C. gets a bit over-zealous, just before the well-known exam time and the day before that term paper is due to be in to that oh-so-unreasonable instructor, who insists that they must be in on time.

But now for the rest of the song. The year begins and it's

and 'rithmetic."*

JOHN CLINTON FUTRALL
President of the University of Arkansas

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

FOR a period of twenty years—from 1905 to 1925—the State of Arkansas did not make it possible for a single new building to be erected on the campus of the University of Arkansas. In the latter year provision was made for the new Agriculture and Engineering Buildings, both of which are as well designed and constructed, as completely equipped and as beautiful as any similar buildings to be found in the nation.

The erection of these two buildings, however, by no means solved the housing problem of the University. Taking advantage of an act passed by the Legislature of 1933, the University has borrowed from the Federal Public Works Administration more than a million dollars to construct a new Library Building and a new Chemistry Building, with the necessary utilities and additions to the heating plant. These buildings will be ready for occupancy in the fall of 1935.

The new library, which was designed after a study of the newest and best library buildings in the country, will for the first time make it possible for the students and faculty of the University to utilize to the best advantage the large and valuable collection of books the University possesses. The best education is no longer a matter of text books and of questions and answers by teachers and students. For languages and for the humanities in general, the library serves the same purpose that the laboratory serves in the scientific divisions.

The new chemistry building is a very large structure and will for the time being house also the departments of geology, zoology and of philosophy and psychology. Later on, no doubt, the entire building will be needed for chemistry alone.

While it can not be claimed that these four new buildings have entirely solved the housing problems of the University, any one who was familiar with the campus ten years ago can not fail to be impressed with the great contrast in the physical condition of the institution then and now.

JOHN C. FUTRALL.

OUR GOVERNOR SAYS:

BEING able to see the practical viewpoint means success. The power to be practical is one that may be greatly developed. The ability to give each fact its proper significance is the pathway to intelligent action. Being quick to observe the significance of any event or phenomena is a power to be feared when found in an adversary. It is this power which penetrates the future as far as it is humanly possible. It is the power which takes us out of beaten paths before it is too late, when conditions have greatly or completely changed. The ability to quickly assemble resources at our command and make the most out of them is a characteristic which renders one successful.

We should quickly grasp and not forget the lessons of experience of ourselves and others. We should not overlook the lessons which history teaches us, but we must be careful to discriminate between facts which gave rise to a course of action or to a civilization, which is entirely different from the facts now existing. He is dumb who learns only from his own experience. He who profits by the experience of others becomes wise and powerful.

Great intellect without driving power amounts to nothing. A mediocre talent backed by great driving power accomplishes wonders. Beware of the person who is everlastingly at it. To develop these habits and traits of mind and character, which forces the way to success, is the chief purpose of education. A knowledge of mathematics and other subjects is incidental, only, to the main purpose—that is to develop capacity. It is well for our educational institutions to make a careful survey of what has been done and what is now being done, and what should be done to the end that improvements may be made. Our universities should do this great work.

HE ADVISES OUR MEN

AFTER years of service as advisor for our young men, I have had one fact conclusively demonstrated many times. I must concede that youth and age are distinctly and eternally different and this difference must be admitted and accepted if there is to be little or no conflict between the two.

My contact and work with thousands of young men has shown me how differently youth and age look at life and its problems and responsibilities. To me this is a wholesome and constructive force in our national life. I am glad that youth is impulsive, original and daring and therefore different from age.

Youth suddenly decides to do something and, acting upon the impulse of the moment, with no thought for the future, does it and generally succeeds. Age, on the same problem, would deliberate, calculate, turn to the past and then to the future for guidance and then hesitate on whether to do or not to do through fear of precedent. Youth knows no precedent.

My observations and experiences have taught me that age can not do very much for youth, but age can do very much with youth when age understands the difference in the above statements. Keeping this difference in mind, age finds that working with youth is not as dangerous as it appears and that youth may do about as well acting on impulse as age does acting by reason. I have found that it is time well spent to go with these young men and to allow them to try out an idea in order to prove they are right or wrong. It is interesting to observe that in spite of their inexperience and their impulsive way of action, they do amazing and often worthwhile things.

DEAN MARTHA M. REID

AND SHE OUR WOMEN

FROM the vantage point of a dozen years of deaning at the University of Arkansas, the dean of women extends a greeting to the present student body and to all who have been students here during the past twelve years.

Should a member of the class of 1924 return this year to the commencement of 1935, he would find a number of changes.

Five new buildings on the campus indicate growth and improvement in the physical facilities of the University. Six new sorority and fraternity houses tell of improved living conditions for students. A co-operative house for women affords a satisfactory home for fifteen girls at a minimum cost. The women's dormitory has been remodeled and made comfortable and attractive.

A number of honor societies have been installed which furnish additional intellectual stimulus. Two national freshman honor groups, one for men and one for women, offer opportunities for distinction to outstanding freshmen. A chapter of Kappa Delta Pi recognizes exceptional students in the College of Education, and the long coveted chapter of Phi Beta Kappa places its seal of achievement upon distinguished scholarship in the College of Arts and Science.

Graduates of the Law School are occupying important positions all over the state, thus bringing recognition to their Alma Mater.

Twelve years of planning and work and achievement!

Here's to the University of Arkansas! May she never be a big university, but may she continue to grow stronger and better year by year.

The year 1934-'35 marked the seventh year that student dances have been supervised by the Student Social Committee. All social functions of the University students are under the direct control and supervision of the Student Social Committee. The giving of dates for social functions, conduct at dances, finances, orchestras, and all other details are controlled by this committee.

In drawing up the social calendar, Benton, with the assistance of Dean Ripley, cooperated with all organizations in the passing out of dates for their respective activities. In this way there was a dance nearly every week end.

The Carnall Hall Governing Board is the discipline committee of the girls' dormitory. It has been a functioning unit of that institution since the establishment of student government at the University of Arkansas.

The board is composed of representatives from the various classes elected in proportionate number by the girls who live in Carnall Hall. Its purpose is to promote a feeling of responsibility among the girls, to administer discipline, aid in staging dances, keeping down noise and to look after the girls' general welfare.

TO AID MANKIND

By DEAN JOHN CLARK JORDAN

I N these days of the depression, I am often asked for my opinion as to the advisability of a student's entering upon graduate work after the completion of his college course. Particular cases are best left to the judgment of the student himself; but in general I have certain convictions as to the course of action that should be followed.

I believe that the maximum in the undergraduate enrollment has been reached, at least for some years. Few additional teachers, therefore, will be needed. This fact has considerable bearing on the matter of graduate study, inasmuch as many persons take up graduate study primarily as a means to advancement in the teaching profession. I believe that many people should be discouraged from beginning graduate work; but I believe just as firmly that able students should be encouraged even more than they have been in the past.

The depression will have much benefit if it forces us to improve the quality of our graduate students, and result in great value if it raises the standard of our teachers, and if it develops scholars who are capable of adding to the world's knowledge.

DEAN JOHN CLARK JORDAN—The Graduate School is indeed fortunate in having as its Dean a man who is recognized nationally for his many accomplishments. Through his understanding of the problems which confront the graduate students, they are directed in the pursuit of their studies and are encouraged to increase their private store of knowledge. Dean Jordan's advice is greatly respected and he is a friend to all students in aiding them to choose their courses.

PALETTE AND TEST TUBE

By DEAN VIRGIL L. JONES

THE year 1934-35 is marked by the largest enrollment in the history of the College of Arts and Sciences. It has seen progress upon the splendid buildings that are to house the library, the museum, and much of the scientific equipment of the University. On the material side it has been a year of expansion. Of the spirit it is not so easy to speak conclusively, but I believe that no preceding student group has been more interested in all that concerns the basic interests of humanity. Those who attend the University are in themselves evidence of the deep and growing American belief that in some way college education will make the paths of life smoother for the children than they have been for the fathers, that college education contains the key that may open the door to a greater mastery of life than has before been known. To some, to many, the mastery of life is largely in terms of material rewards; to others it is primarily in the fulfilment, the development, of all the latent powers with which they are endowed; to still others it is grounded in the high hope of helping humanity take a step forward. In most, in varying degrees, these aspirations are combined.

To those who are attending the University for the last time we wish Godspeed. We hope that the dreams of today may be the realities of tomorrow, but, above all, we hope that whatever other success you may attain you will unto the end be pioneers of the new frontiers of truth and social justice.

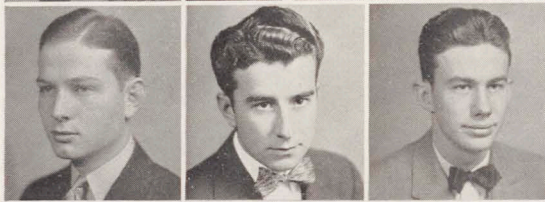

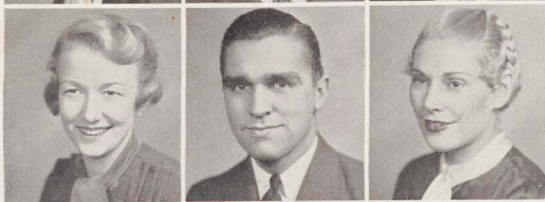

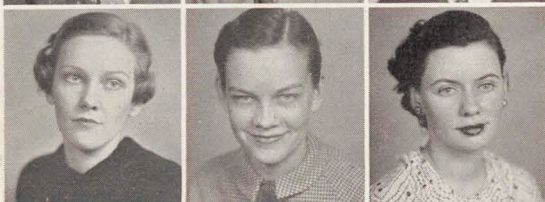

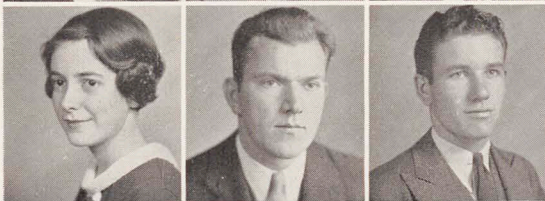

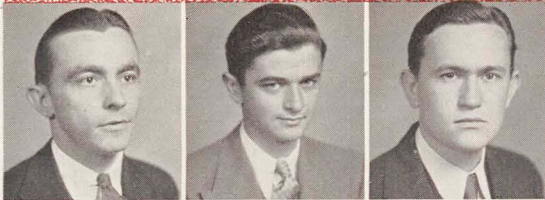

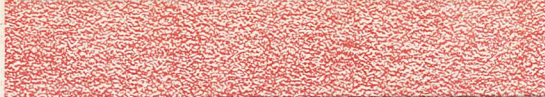

DEAN VIRGIL L. JONES—The University is merely a means to an end, an institution where the accumulated wisdom of the world is accessible to those who would acquire a part of it. The role of the Arts and Science School is one of broadening of experience and knowledge in the fine arts, that life may be happier and more complete. It is to these ends that Dean Jones faithfully devotes his work.

Phi Eta Sigma is an honorary organization for students making a 5.00 or better their freshman year. Its purpose is to encourage freshmen who show a marked learning ability.

The organization was installed in 1931 by Dean Herbert Smith of the University of Illinois, who is the national secretary of the organization. Since its inception, with an enrollment of 12, it has grown increasingly under the guidance of Dean G. E. Ripley, faculty advisor.

Alpha Chi Sigma, honorary fraternity in chemistry, was founded at the University of Wisconsin in 1902. Its membership is drawn from students of chemistry who intend to make some phase of the subject their life's work.

From the date of its founding and up to 1922, the fraternity was made up of its collegiate chapters and alumni chapters, but during the year 1922 there began a division of the organization into two general branches, one of them consisting of the collegiate chapters and the other of the professional chapters.

Pi Kappa, a women's professional journalistic sorority, was founded at the University of Arkansas in 1927. Membership of the group is made up of women who are planning to take up the profession of journalism, and only those who have shown marked interest, originality, and ability along this line, as well as having done consistent and creditable work on student publications, are recognized by the sorority.

The purpose of the organization is to promote the interests of the profession and to bring about a more consummate feeling of co-operation and understanding among its members.

Much constructive work has been done by the organization for the School of Journalism as well as the University at large. This year the Press Club and Pi Kappa worked together in sponsoring a Press Banquet, which was given during High School Week in honor of the High School Editors throughout the state.

The National Society of Lambda Tau was founded at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, by a group of English scholars. Beta Chapter was established on the campus of the University of Arkansas in 1923.

Membership in this organization is limited to those women students of the University who have displayed literary ability. The aim of the society is to create a greater interest in literary activities and to encourage originality by associating together girls who are really interested in the work.

This year the weekly meetings were marked by readings of original compositions by the members or by reviews of current books. A competitive contest for literary compositions was sponsored by the club in the spring.

Blackfriars, national honorary dramatic fraternity, was organized at the University of Arkansas in 1913 by Roger Williams, who was at that time a member of the Public Speaking Department of the University. For a number of years it maintained a policy of a small, exclusive membership, but later developed into an organization supplementing the work of the University Theatre.

This year, as in the past, the aims of the fraternity have been greatly accomplished in the presentation of a superior type of play production. Under the capable leadership of Eli Leflar, president, the fraternity has produced "One of the Family," with a cast that included Sidney McMath, Mike Plishner, Audrey Evans and Henri Cleveland, and also "The Play's the Thing," as well as "Three Cornered Moon," the last production of the year. Elaine Braughton took the lead in this play and was supported by a brilliant cast. This play will long be remembered as one of the best in the history of the organization.

Sigma Alpha Iota, national music fraternity, was founded June 12, 1903, and was chartered in the early part of 1904 by seven women music students in the School of Music of the University of Michigan. There are now fifty-eight chapters.

The object of Sigma Alpha Iota is to form bodies of representative women who shall, by their influence and their musical interest, uphold the highest ideals of a musical education; to raise the standards of productive musical work among the women students of colleges and universities; to further the development of a stronger bond of musical interest and understanding between foreign countries and America; and to develop loyalty to the Alma Mater.

Sigma Omicron chapter, a strong link in S. A. I.'s chain of service and high ideals, was installed November 25, 1925. The chapter has four patronesses: Mrs. Harry Shultz, Mrs. Fred L. Kerr, Mildred Gillespie, and Mrs. Bert Lewis.

Writers' Club was founded at the University of Arkansas in 1924 by Grant McColley, professor of English. However, it first began in 1918 with Brook Hays, writer; Fay Rankin, now dean at the College of the Ozarks; and Dr. James H. Nisbett. The activities of the club were discontinued during the years of the World War.

Members who started the present organization in '24 were John Wells, city editor of the Arkansas Gazette; Alfred Crabaugh, professor of English at Arkansas Polytechnic, and Charles Morrow Wilson, distinguished writer.

Since '24 the Writers' Club has had continuous existence on the campus and in 1930 it was granted a charter by Sigma Upsilon, and given the name of Quapaw Club. In the last two years this charter has been allowed to lapse.

The Branner Geology Club, named in honor of Dr. J. C. Branner, former state geologist, was organized in 1925 for the purpose of promoting interest in geology.

Meetings are held each month for the presentation of papers and discussion of matters pertaining to geology. The club also makes it a point to take at least one field trip each year.

The chief requirement for membership in the Branner Geology Club is an active interest in geology, the importance of which very few students realize.

The Staff of the 1935 Razorback calls your attention to a new arrangement of material inaugurated in this year's annual. Each school has been treated as a unit, the pages of which embody the students, organizations and clubs of that particular school. This was done to further the aim of the Staff which was to give the students a Razorback of which they can be justly proud.

POWER - CONSTRUCTION - LIGHT

By DEAN W. N. GLADSON

ENGINEERING is a profession involving the characteristics of science, art and business, and requires a knowledge of the physical laws of Nature, the mechanical properties of materials, the physical sciences—mathematics, physics, chemistry and mechanics—, and the social sciences.

An engineer may practice his profession as an employee of a municipality, a corporation, a public utility, the Government or other public body; or, he may practice as a consulting engineer, or as an employee of a consulting engineer. As an employee he receives a fixed salary. As an independent consulting engineer, his charges being a per diem fee or a percentage of the cost of the work, his income depends upon his ability to sell his services and to render such satisfactory service that he will be sought by other clients and be recalled by satisfied ones.

On graduation from college the embryo engineer's first thought is to find a job so that he may help to start the wheels of industry which seem, recently, to have bogged down. For the past four years most beginning engineers have landed their first job in one of the Government's alphabetical administrations. As industry is restored to normalcy, opportunities for the young engineer will increase because of the accrued depreciation in industrial machinery.

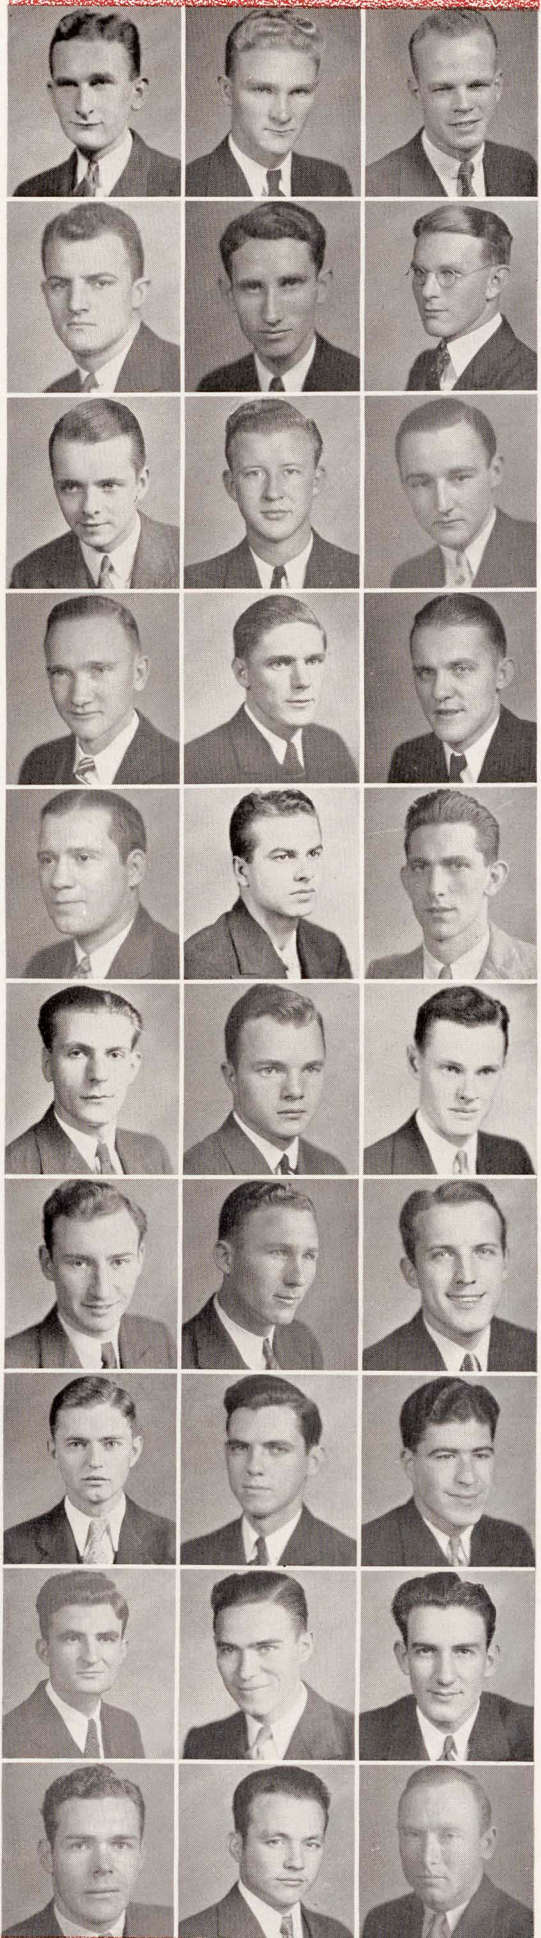

The College of Engineering, through its personnel department, is keeping in touch with its graduates and is finding increasing opportunities to aid them in securing positions in their chosen fields. The prospect for a successful career in Engineering was never brighter than that opening before this year's graduates.

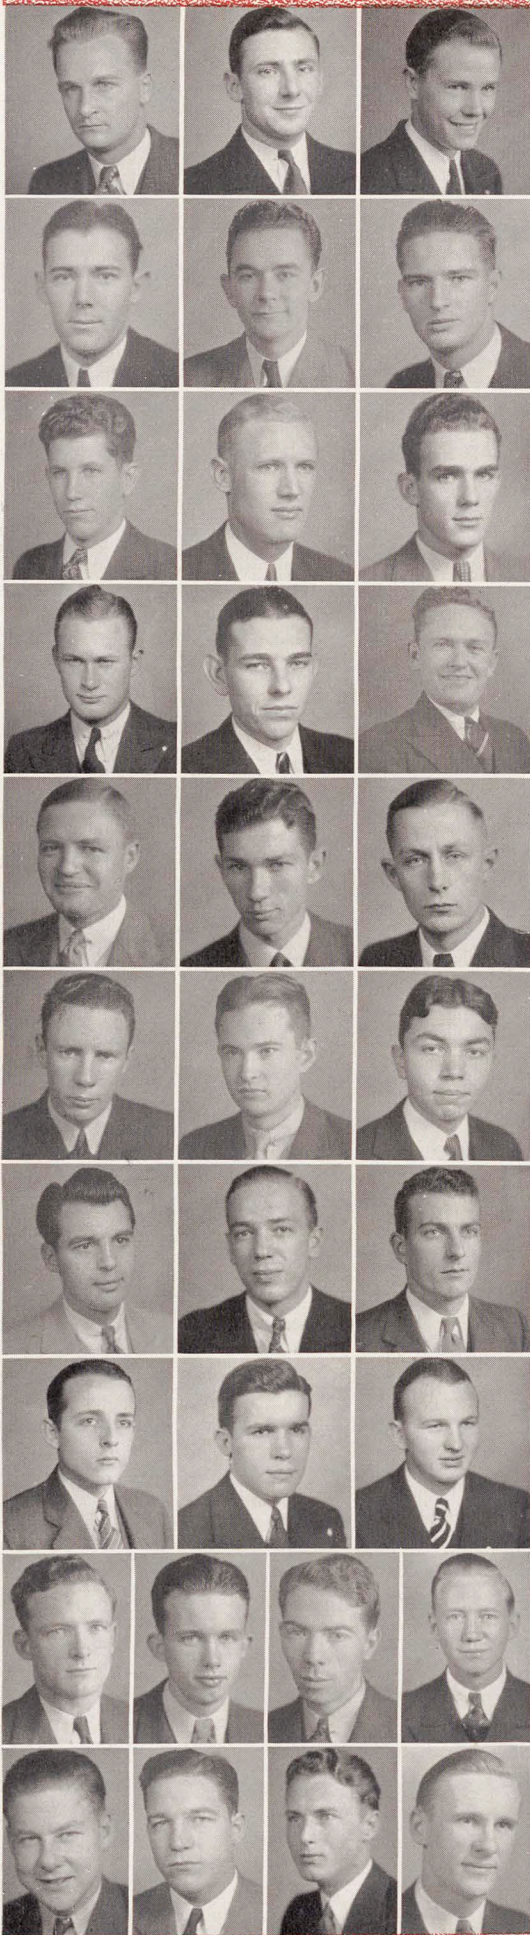

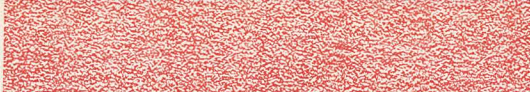

DEAN W. N. GLADSON—Under the guidance of Dean W. N. Gladson, the Engineering School of the University of Arkansas ranks high among the colleges of the country. The School of Engineering strives to educate men as well as to train them. The courses of study are arranged with the idea of producing graduates who are as competent in solving the problems of their country and their life as they are in solving the problems of their particular occupation and who, at the same time, are well versed in the finer arts to appreciate and encourage culture and education. Dean W. N. Gladson is also vice-president of the University.

The General Engineering Society is a student organization which has general supervision over all activities of the College of Engineering. Every Engineer, whether freshman or senior, is entitled to membership and the rights and privileges of the college as a whole.

The major activity sponsored by the G. E. S. is the annual day of celebration known as Engineers' Day, usually held the Friday nearest St. Patrick's Day. This year the Engineers chose Harold Ward, a Pi Kappa Alpha from Searcy, and Agnes Soule, a Pi Beta Phi from Huntsville, as St. Pat and Engineers' Queen. St. Pat knighted senior engineers at a special convocation and generally presided over all events, and the day ended with the annual Engineers' Dance, with St. Pat and his Queen leading the grand march. Exhibits were set up in all departments of the Engineering College, and, according to a new decision, presented during high school week.

Tau Beta Pi is an honorary society founded at Lehigh University, June, 1885, under the leadership of Professor E. H. Williams. Its purpose is to confer distinction upon those students who have maintained a high grade of scholarship, and to foster a spirit of liberal culture among the engineering students in the institutions where its chapters are located.

When a chapter is established it may confer its key upon its alumni and students of earlier years in analogy to a similar custom in Phi Beta Kappa. Membership may be offered to graduates of engineering colleges where there is no chapter, provided the recipient has fulfilled the regular eligibility requirements as a student. Membership of distinction may be conferred upon prominent engineers who may or may not already be members of the society.

Alpha Chapter has been active since its establishment at the University of Arkansas in 1914. Election is considered one of the highest honors that can be bestowed upon an engineer.

Theta Tau was founded at the University of Minnesota on October 15, 1904. It was from the first intended to be a professional engineering fraternity to inculcate high ethical and professional standards and to foster close fraternal relations among its members. Membership is limited to students of engineering of "personal worthiness and of promising engineering ability." Its scholastic standards are high. It does not permit its members to join other engineering fraternities except honorary or scholastic organizations.

Until 1911 the fraternity was also known as "Hammer and Tongs," but in that year the Greek letter name which now appears on the badge was adopted.

Upsilon Chapter was established at the University of Arkansas in 1928, and has been consistently active in Engineering School affairs.

The American Institute of Electrical Engineers, a national organization, has as members professional engineers and students. Any student who is actively interested in the field of electrical engineering is eligible for membership.

The purpose of the national organization is to promote the interests of the profession. Through its student branches it helps the student engineer while in school and also aids him as he becomes established as a professional engineer after graduation.

The Arkansas Institute of Chemical Engineers is an organization for students of Chemical Engineering who are particularly interested in topics of everyday chemistry and in the advancement of that science.

Meetings of A. I. Ch. E. feature papers and discussions on subjects of general interest to chemists and also give opportunity for carrying on interesting chemical experiments.

The American Society of Civil Engineers is composed of seventy-eight chapters located in the principal universities of the United States. The purpose of the organization is to stimulate undergraduate students to an interest for things which advance the engineering profession. Membership is not limited to those of the civil engineering profession, but is extended to all those who have the qualifications for membership.

The University of Arkansas student branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineering, a professional organization formed over twenty years ago, has for its purpose the creation of more friendly relationships with other students of mechanics, to create an interest in all subjects in that field, and to help graduates to advance in the mechanical engineering profession.

Meetings are held monthly, at which time projects are discussed and papers are presented to the group for study. The A. S. M. E. has worked out a seminar plan whereby members may obtain credit by presenting a paper on some assigned subject and by attending three-fourths of all meetings.

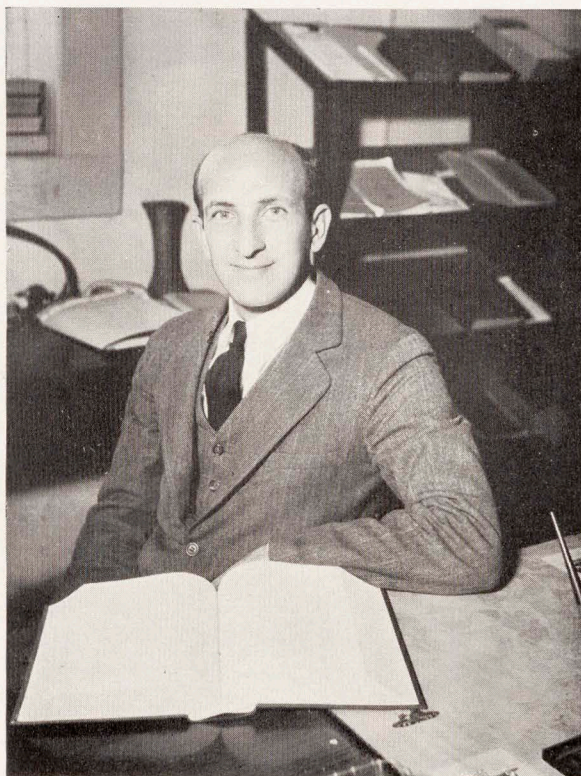

ST. PAT AND HIS QUEEN

At midnight the whistles of the Engineers proclaim the beginning of a new Engineers' Day, a day set aside for the knighting of the Senior Engineers by Saint Pat and his Queen, who rule over all the events of the gala day. This year the Engineering students chose Harold Ward of Searcy as Saint Pat, and Agnes Soule of Huntsville as his Queen. They ruled the day for the Knights of the Shamrock, and led the grand march at the Engineers' Ball.

BEFORE THE BAR OF JUSTICE

By DEAN J. S. WATERMAN

IN the fall of 1924 fourteen young men enrolled in the first year class of the newly established School of Law of the University of Arkansas, in order that they might study the art of appearing before the bar of justice. In the fall of 1934, ten years later, one hundred and twenty-four young men and women were convinced that they too desired to study the same art.

In 1924, in the young law school, preparation to appear before the bar of justice was simple, as the law library contained only a few volumes and was housed in one small room. Today the library consists of over eleven thousand volumes, scattered through numerous connected rooms.

In 1927, the first law class was graduated; it consisted of ten young men. In 1934, the eighth graduating class, with a membership of twenty-two, received diplomas. Eighty-nine young men have been graduated by the School of Law in the ten years of its existence. With few exceptions they are engaged in the practice of law and most of those in the practice are following their profession in Arkansas. While the law graduates are still very young men, one is now a state senator and another sits on a circuit court bench.

It is hoped that when these graduates return after the fall of 1935 the familiar "bar of justice" which stood in what was called the large class room, will be found in an even larger class room and that the law library will be housed in more adequate quarters.

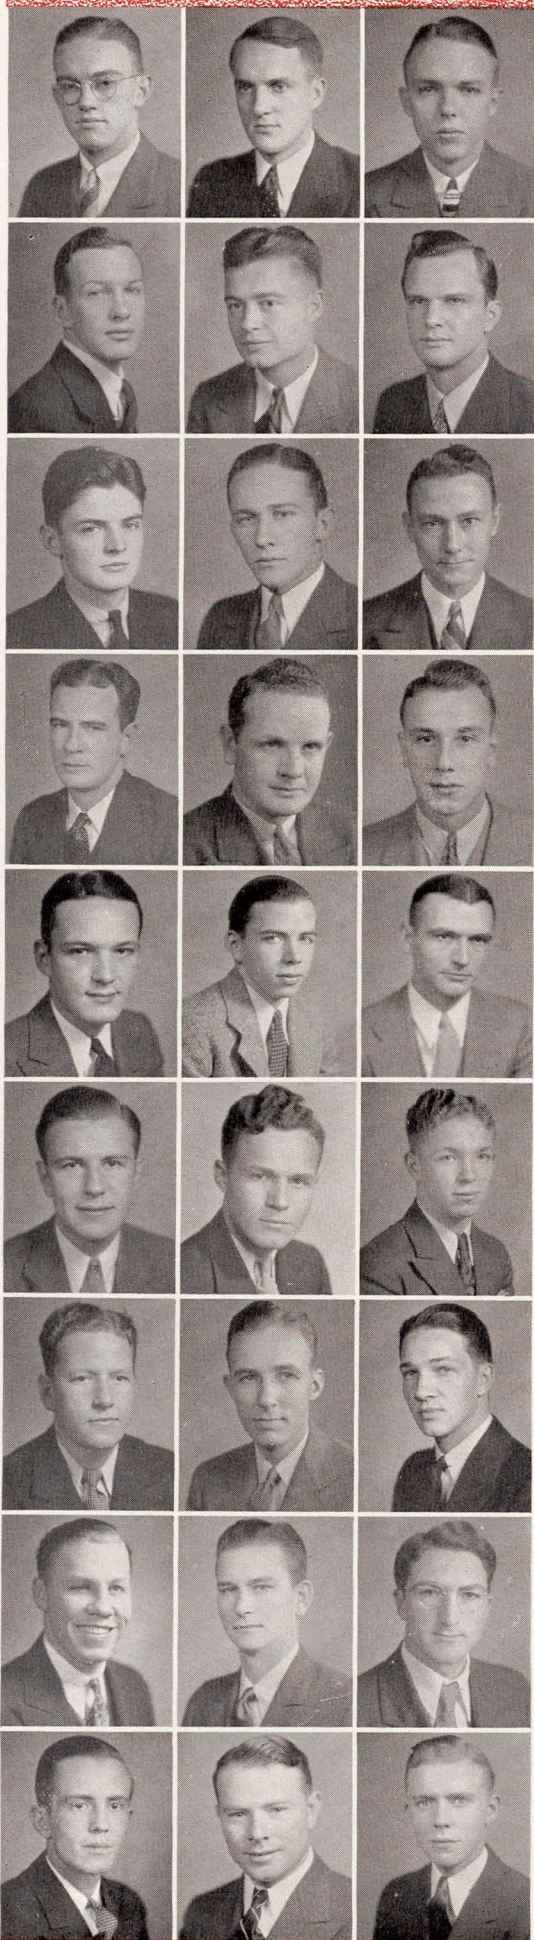

DEAN J. S. WATERMAN—In keeping with the progress and growth in prestige of the University, is the University Law School, whose leader, Dean J. S. Waterman, is not only an instructor of note, but an interesting conversationalist in every way, especially along lines of student interest. "The Dean" is ever ready to advise and counsel with the students, and his opinion is one of the most respected on the campus.

In the fall of 1933 the Law School adopted the Honor System which in every sense of the word has been truly an honor system, in that it was entirely put into the hands of the law students. This plan, well in advance of the rest of the schools in the University, has since the time of adoption more than proven its worth. It has provided more or less a guiding light for the rest of the schools in their reorganization to keep up with the modern trends in education.

AMERICAN BUSINESS

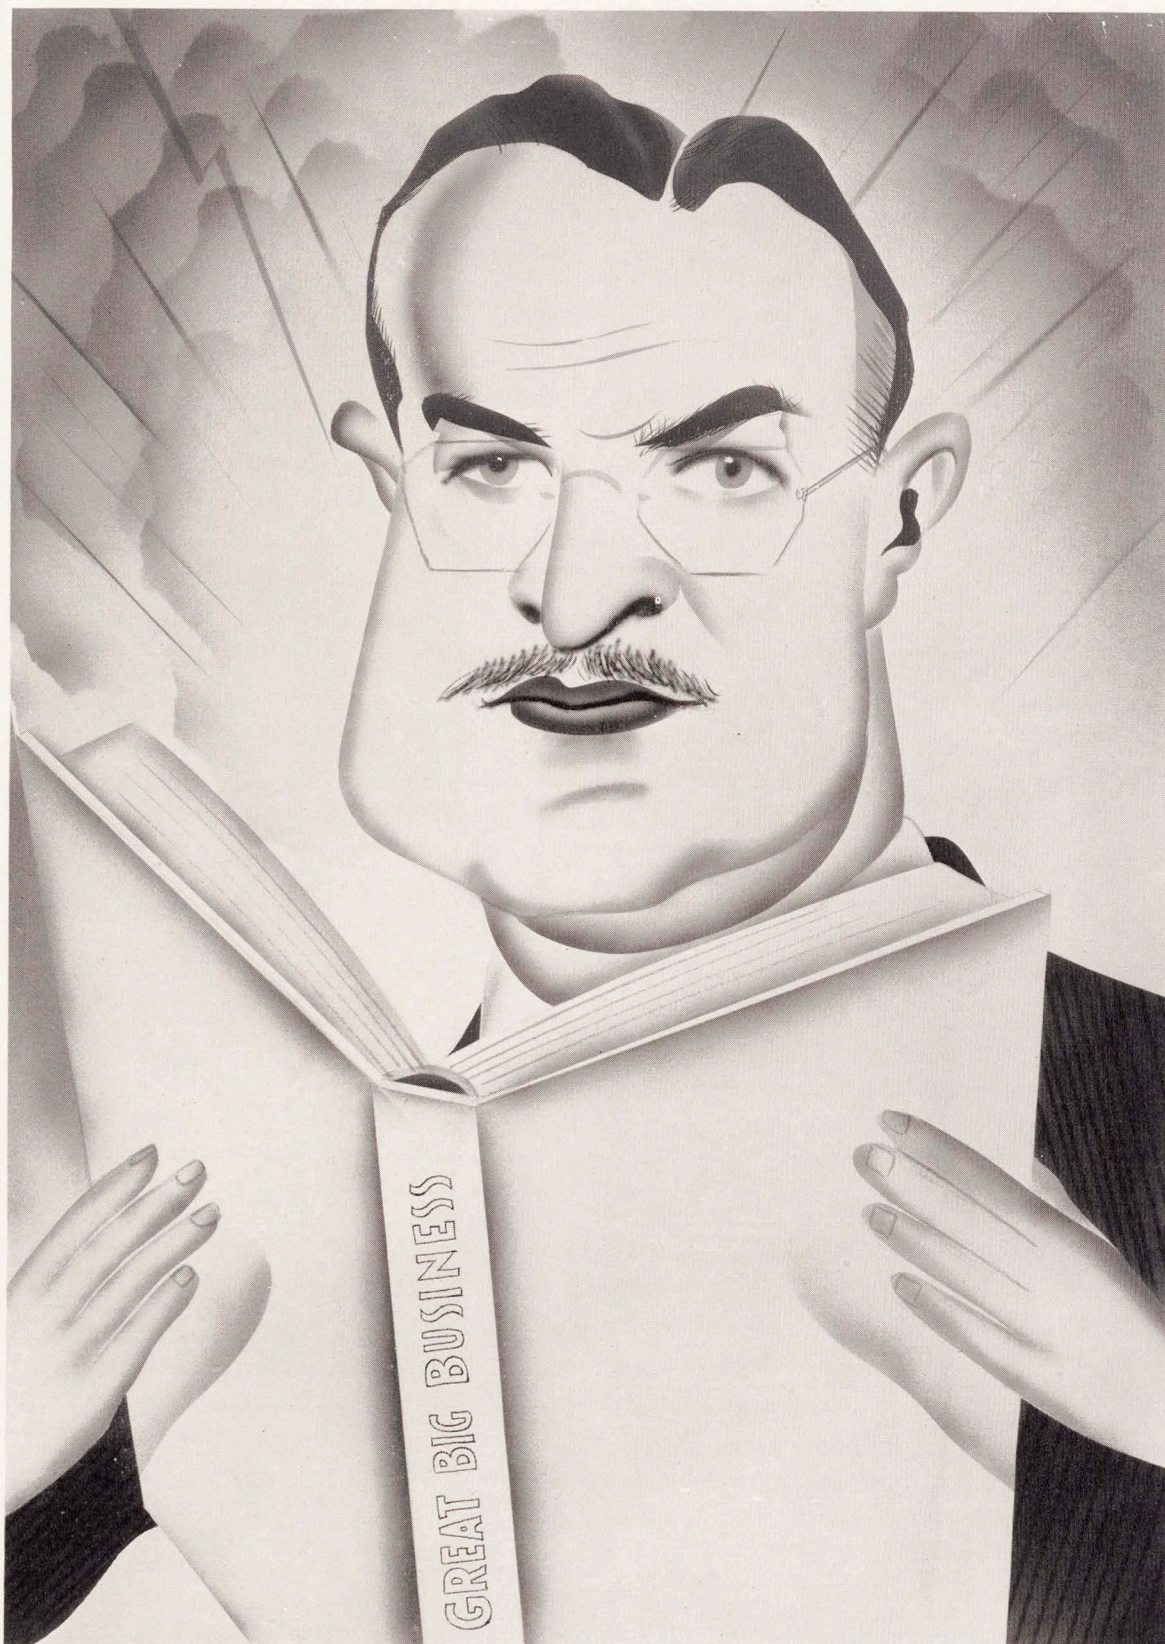

By DEAN C. C. FICHTNER

TWENTY-ONE years ago the world political balance broke down into a catastrophic war. The staggering economic losses and maladjustments arising from the struggle together with a peace treaty postulated on fantastic finance launched a chain of consequences which to American business assumed the form of an unhealthy boom followed inescapably by "the great depression of the thirties." That the system under the strain of political and financial turmoil, unemployment, losses, attacks on fundamental institutions, political interference and unparalleled abuse, has held together and continued to function as well as it has reveals in it a singular toughness. Fortunate is this, indeed, as all groups in the Nation have a vital interest, often unrealized, in American business broadly defined.

Taking advantage of the obviously distressing aspects of the depression, critics have inspired and fostered a sentiment of antagonism to business. In disregard of the facts, American business is charged with extortionate profits particularly at the expense of wages. Sixteenth century economic philosophies, currently being reapplied by impoverished foreign peoples, are advocated as means of business "reform." That evils have existed in American business no one will deny, but why these evils cannot be corrected rationally is a question not for the economist but for the political psychiatrist.

The great shortcoming in the American business system has been the lack of trained and capable executives, men competent to exercise good judgment, imagination and initiative with a minimum of error. Sound governmental policy dictates that such men be given all possible encouragement to organize the factors of production now stagnant—unemployed labor, idle capital and unused natural resources—so that two jobs may grow where one grew before. Placing them in a straightjacket of bureaucratic regulation penalizes enterprise, efficiency and private forward planning and places a premium on unprogressiveness. Government ownership and direction of business offers no certain solution because the same lack of trained public administrators handicaps the government in its business operations, because there is no preponderant evidence that public administrators would be better selected than business executives, and finally, because we have discovered no effective way of removing the deadening influence of bureaucracy.

DEAN C. C. FICHTNER—The general business condition of the United States, as well as the world at large, in the past few years has offered to the students of business many and various problems, both in economics and business turmoil. Under the learned guidance of Dean Fichtner the students in the Business School have studied these problems and profited much from the theory as well as the practical advice which the Dean is in the position to give. Dean Fichtner is capable of analyzing most business actions and his explanations are highly valued and sought after.

Alpha Kappa Psi, professional fraternity in business administration, was founded at New York University in 1904. The fraternity now has fifty-seven chapters at schools of business administration of leading universities in the United States and Canada.

Beta Zeta Chapter was established at the University of Arkansas as an outgrowth of the Commerce Club in November, 1928. Two years ago the local chapter won highest honors in competition with all other chapters throughout the country in the National Efficiency Contest, and was awarded a plaque for excellency in scholarship, activity, administration, service to school of commerce, financial administration, and the like.

Alpha Kappa Psi sponsors each year a series of speeches of interest to commerce students, an all business school banquet, and other such activities of the local school of business administration. The chapter gives a scholarship award to high point juniors and seniors in the business school.

The Arkansas Business Bulletin, published by the Business School of the University, is one of the most outstanding publications of its kind in the state, and is resorted to for financial information on business conditions by all of the business leaders in the Southwest. It is through this media that the residents of the state are given the correct information on various types of business problems. The Bulletin has proven to be one of the most outstanding of all of the services offered to the state by the University.

KINGS OF THE SOIL

By ACTING DEAN C. O. BRANNEN

THE function of the College of Agriculture is to provide a system of education and information for the benefit of farm people. The College performs this function by means of three distinct divisions of work.

The teaching division, which is more nearly comparable in organization and purpose with the other colleges and schools of the University, offers special courses in agriculture and home economics and, in addition, requires agricultural students to take related courses offered by other divisions of the University.

Courses in agriculture, contrary to common opinion, do not deal to any appreciable extent with the physical practices in crops and livestock production, but, instead, deal with the science and arts upon which the business and social life of farmers are based. The laws and principles of science are studied and applied, not only to the individual processes of plant and animal life, but to the combination of enterprises on the farm which are expected to be of advantage to the farmer. Agricultural education goes further. It includes consideration of economic and social forces relating to the welfare of the rural community as a whole. The curriculum in home economics is designed to apply, similarly, to the needs of the home.

Such courses are offered, not primarily for the training directly of farmers and housewives, but to give a group of young men and women a better understanding of agriculture and rural life as a basis for rural leadership. The teaching division of the College at the University, as viewed by students and faculty members on the campus, is the "College of Agriculture," although people throughout the state think of the College in connection with its research and extension activities.

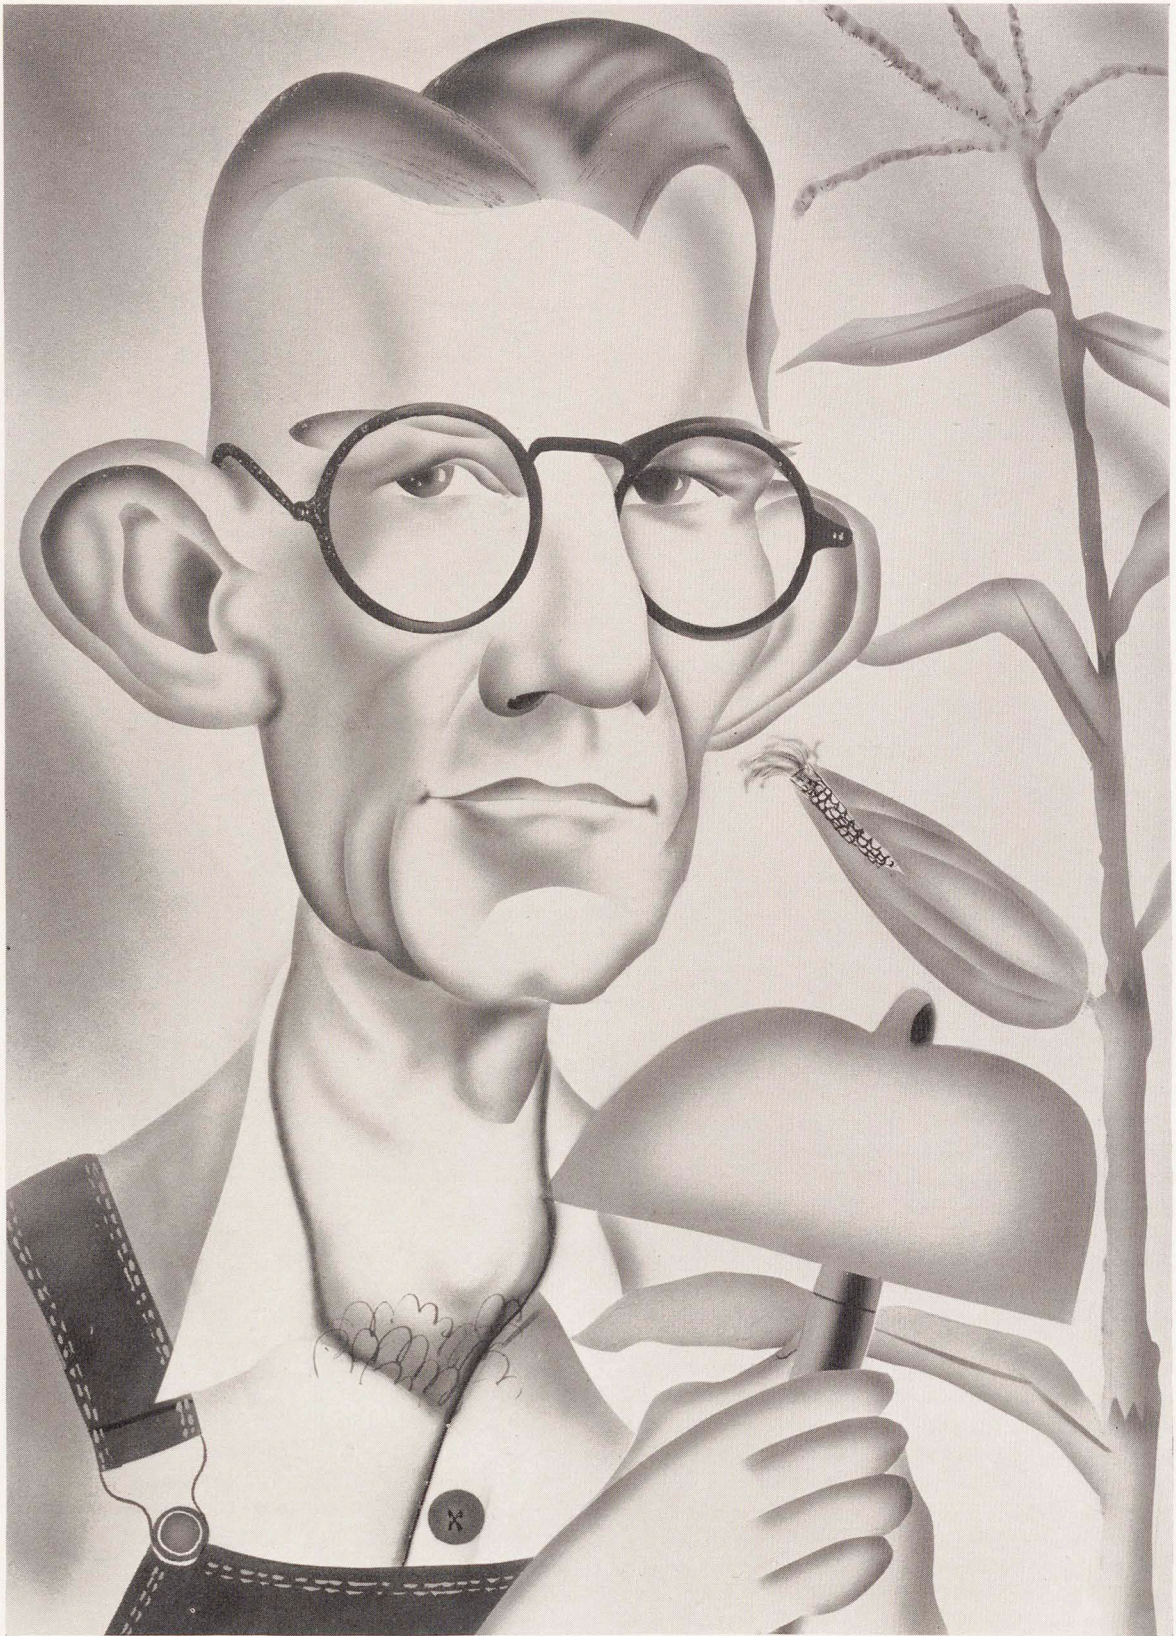

The research division of the College of Agriculture is known as the Agricultural Experiment Station, only a portion of which is located on the University campus. The Experiment Station, which is considerably larger in number of workers than the teaching division, is devoted entirely to research in agriculture, home economics, and related sciences. Numerous studies are made varying in nature and purpose from testing the performance of plants under field conditions on the University farm or at the three branch stations, or of collecting information on economic and social conditions throughout the state, to highly technical investigations in plant and animal physiology in the greenhouse and laboratories.

The purpose of the research program is to learn more of the fundamental factors affecting plant and animal life, and economic and social relationships, in order that the knowledge gained may be translated into benefits to the farm population and to society generally.

The third and largest division of the College, in terms of numbers employed, is the Agricultural Extension Service. Activities in this field, located in all counties of the state, consist of disseminating research and other information pertaining to agriculture and homemaking, directing farm men and women and boys and girls in club and other community undertakings, and, in more recent years, of administering the federal crop and livestock programs. Graduates of the College of Agriculture thus not only carry the knowledge they have gained in course work, but timely information published by the College and similar agencies, to farmers and their families.

In this three-fold effort, the College of Agriculture trains young men and women in the sciences and arts underlying farm life by means of research discoveries, new knowledge of agriculture, disseminates worthwhile information, and otherwise works with and for farmers in the interest of rural progress. The aim is, in some degree, to promote the common welfare and the common purpose of mankind.

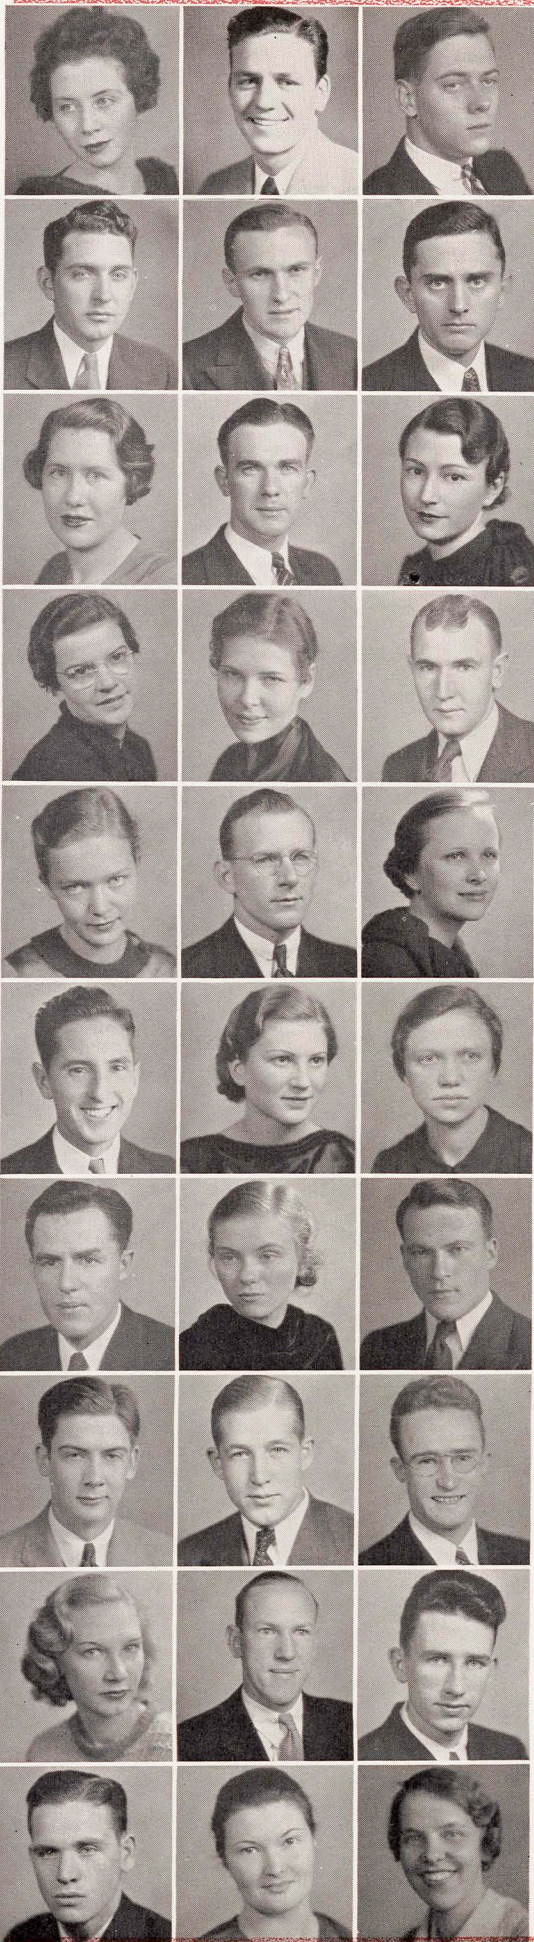

ACTING DEAN C. O. BRANNEN—The College of Agriculture of our University has been under the capable supervision of Acting Dean Brannen for 1934-'35. The Agri College not only has a state-wide reputation, but is recognized nationally. It trains men and women to carry on in a modern and effective manner the business and agricultural life of the state. Acting Dean Brannen's administration has been a most successful one and he is due much credit for his faithful work.

Agri Day Association, better known as A. D. A., is the organization which sponsors the annual celebration of the students of the College of Agriculture, Agri Day. The association was formed in 1917 and has continued to function each year in the presentation of a carnival featuring exhibits from various departments of the Agri college, a parade, and an Agri Ball. Faye Vaughn reigned as queen of Agri Day this year, while Garner Smith served as A. D. A. manager.

In addition to sponsoring the activities of Agri Day, the association is in charge of arrangements for an annual "Barn-Warmin'," given soon after the beginning of the school year, and a spring picnic and barn dance at the University Experiment Station farm. Each student of the College of Agriculture shares in the expenses of these enterprises, and each has a vote in the election of A. D. A. officers.

Scholarship, development of agriculture, and brotherhood among members may be listed among the purposes of Alpha Zeta, national honorary agricultural fraternity. During this school year 1934-1935 Arkansas chapter has listed to its credit several achievements of note.

Each year the Arkansas chapter presents a loving cup and a plaque. The cup is awarded to the highest grade-point agricultural freshman who returns to college the succeeding year as a sophomore. The plaque is presented as a sweepstake trophy to the winning team in the State Agricultural Contest sponsored by Alpha Zeta in co-operation with the Agricultural Education Department.

The Arkansas chapter was founded in 1917. It numbers among its alumni some of the most prominent agricultural workers in the South.

The University 4-H Club was founded December, 1929, as an organization for students who had completed one or more years of club work before entering the University. The purpose of the club is to develop qualities of leadership, to increase knowledge of state and national club work, to encourage members of state 4-H clubs to enter the College of Agriculture, and to prepare the members to become more efficient workers in the field of Agricultural Extension service.

The 4-H Club House was organized in the fall of 1933 under the sponsorship of the University of Arkansas 4-H Club. Its purpose is to give to its members the educational and social privileges offered by the University with a reduction of expenses. The past three years have been very successful with the membership increasing and the original purposes of the organization being carried out.

Agri Day is a day set aside for the agriculture students at the University, and it is one day that is long remembered. On this day the various departments of the agri school are represented with floats in a colorful parade, and the sign of the big white foot shows visitors where various agriculture exhibits are located. This year Miss Faye Vaughn of North Little Rock reigned as Agri Queen, and Garner Smith of Little Rock, as A. D. A. manager, was in charge of plans for the day.

WITH THE PEDAGOGS

By DEAN H. G. HOTZ

THE College of Education was organized for the purpose of providing professional training to men and women who expect to make teaching, school supervision or school administration a career. It was founded upon the principle that teaching, the direction of learning through supervision and the provision of an administrative organization under which teachers and supervisors may work most effectively, are fields requiring expert technical services.

While the basic purpose of the College of Education is to furnish professional knowledge and to develop technical skills, its function is in reality much broader and more inclusive. Other and related responsibilities of a teacher-training unit in a University are:

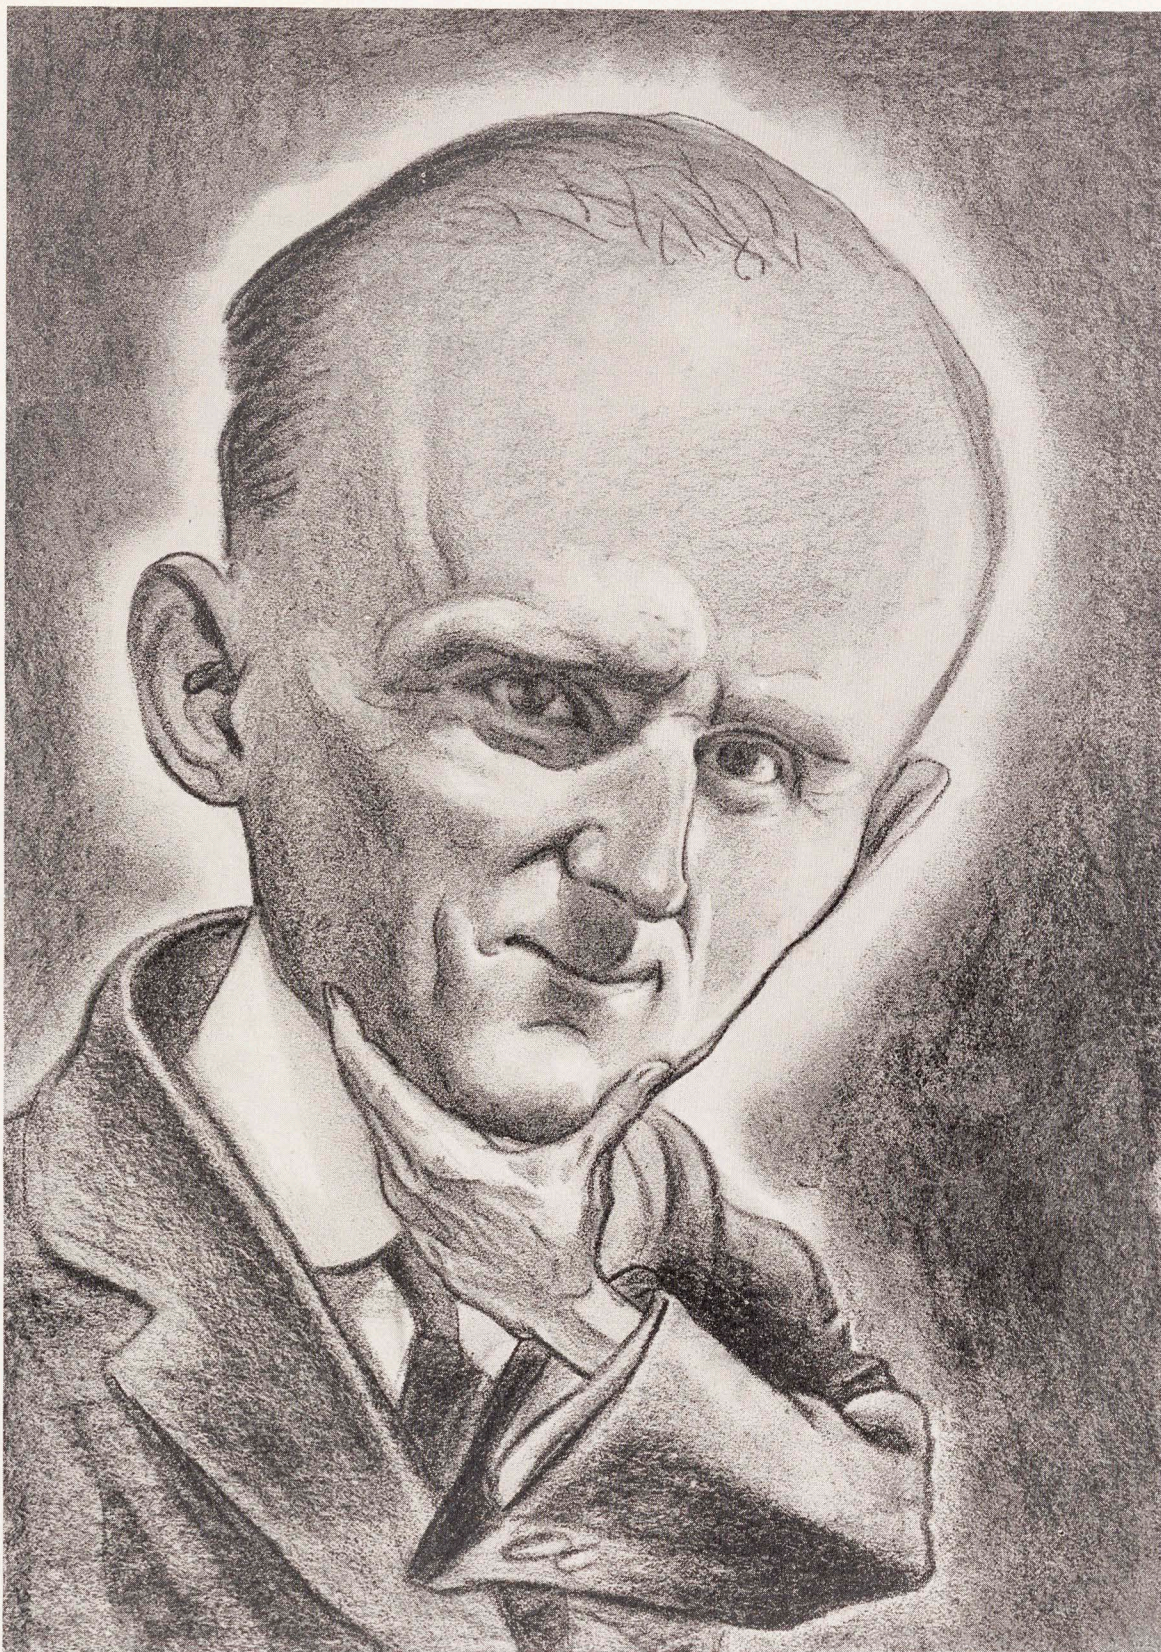

Guidance—In performing its guidance function the College seeks to inform students in all the colleges of the University concerning the apprenticeship requirements for successful teaching.

Articulation—The College strives to articulate the work of the various subject matter departments of the University to meet the needs of prospective teachers and in turn supplements this work with appropriate courses of a professional nature.

Placement—The number of students and alumni aided annually in securing teaching positions by the Teacher Placement Bureau of the College usually runs into three figures.

Studies of Educational Problems—A number of research studies are completed each year which add to the fund of professional knowledge.

DEAN H. G. HOTZ—In this day and age of specialization it is a recognized fact that specialization in teacher training is necessary for a society that is continually placing greater burdens of character training upon the public school. Dean Hotz, precise and methodical, is a competent and staunch guide through a school of training and learning.

In the foregoing pages each school has been pictured as a separate and distinct division. As these divisions of pages are bound together closely, inseparably, to make the RAZORBACK, so are the schools themselves even more closely bound by the invisible ties of fellowship to form the University, where the individual aims of the separate schools broaden into a common goal, a single ideal—a Greater University of Arkansas.

In Memoriam

Jack Newby, April 30, 1935

It is with mingled sorrow and pride that we devote this page and dedicate this section to Jack Newby, who succumbed to double pneumonia on April 30, 1935. His many activities and accomplishments are found elsewhere in the Razorback. To those of us fortunate to be numbered as his intimates, his passing leaves a void not easily filled. In Jack Newby the University has lost a man in every sense of the word, who played the game as it should be played, on the field and off. He cannot be replaced, but will long live in the memory of all of us as a man, an athlete, a friend.

ON THE GRIDIRON

By COACH FRED C. THOMSEN

THROUGHOUT the years, football has been closely associated with university life and we who are in direct contact with the boys who play the game and the men who lay down the rules of eligibility feel that football has a definite part in a well balanced program of any American university or college. It also is the one factor that rallies the student body, faculty and alumni together.

The development of body, of mind, and greatest of all, of character, is the keynote of football. Team play fosters the rugged virtues of courage, determination and self-control. Participation promotes interest and association.

Parents should realize what an aid football is to overcome the problems of slow response to orders, awkward co-ordination and poor cooperation. The fervor of the game, spurred on by school comrades, forms the necessary motivation to whip a lagging spirit into skillful action. The modern game of football brings out hidden qualities of courage and skill. Many boys in their youth are shadowed by fear complexes. Nothing will remove the fear inhibitions faster than a series of tackles and blocks brought about by actual physical contact in scrimmage.

No doubt there are some risks in football, as in every physical activity, but the changes in rules have brought about a new style of open play that has eliminated many of the objectionable features.

These fine qualities brought about through team play in football are indispensable in the true attainment of a higher education.

COACH THOMSEN—Without an amiable coach a modern university is like a train without an engineer, running wild for want of a steady hand at the throttle. Coach "Tommy," a-la-slouchy hat, constantly reminds us of Arkansas' athletic prowess.

RAZORBACK REVIEWS

HANDICAPPED at the start of the season by the loss of an All-Conference quarterback from the last year's team, Coach Thomsen had a difficult time in developing a new signal caller. Various backfield men were given a chance to demonstrate their abilities in the position and Clark Jordan and Ralph LaForge were the two upon whom the mantle finally rested. Al Harris, substitute quarter and star passer, also saw quite a bit of service at the signal calling position.

Despite the fact that all but four members of the 1933 team had returned, Arkansas was considerably weakened by injuries during the season. Only in the first game did all the regulars see service. Guards Black and Boepple were lost for the entire season because of injuries. Clark Jordan and Bid Jeffers were out of the last two games. The injury jinx seemed to take up his abode with the Porkers for this year.

However, Arkansas won four games, tied two and lost four.

In the first game of the season, against Ozarks, the regulars had to play the greater part of the game. Two full teams were used and various backfield combinations were tried out. Arkansas won by a score of 13 to 0.

The Porkers had a breather game the week following the L. S. U. tussle and injured men were given a chance to recover before Arkansas took on four conference teams in a row, and then ended up by playing Tulsa.

Fullback Criswell and Halfback Choice Rucker, both injured in the Tiger tilt, saw the Rolla game from the sidelines. Arkansas' powerful line stopped every play of the Miners and the backfield had an easy time scoring on the visitors. Jordan scored two touchdowns and LaForge one. Subs played the greater part of the game. During this tussle Ellis Gardiner, punting star, got off a 78-yard quick kick, the longest kick of the year on the Razorback field.

Coach Thomsen had a large number of light and fast backs with which to build his team, but a shortage of big, fast, blocking backs. This deficiency greatly handicapped the Porker running attack all during the season. The Razorbacks were forced to use more deception and passing plays than a power attack. Yet Arkansas did have somewhat of a power attack which always worked perfectly in midfield, but seemed to falter at the goal line.

Line Coach Glen Rose had a wealth of material with which to build his line and a large number of veterans. Several big, fast sophomores kept the lettermen hopping and fighting to hold their positions. Arkansas could put an entire senior line on the field had the coaches cared to. Newby, Measel, Spivey, Benton, and Paul Rucker were linemen who were placed on the various first and second All-Southwest Conference teams.

CO-CAPTAINS FOR NEXT YEAR

For the first time in the history of the school, the Arkansas football team will have co-captains instead of captain and sub-captains. Choice Rucker, halfback, and Jack Newby, star center, will lead next year's squad in the conference race. They succeed Captain "Footsie" Benton and Sub-Captain Paul Rucker.

TRAILING behind by 10 points in their first conference game the Porkers gave a demonstration of their power by coming back to take the game by a wide margin. Jordan scored in the second quarter and Geiser converted. Geiser in the fourth quarter kicked a 44-yard field goal to tie the score. In the same quarter on a beautiful triple pass Jordan went over for the winning touchdown. Jordan then passed to Howell in the final quarter for the last touchdown to put Arkansas away out ahead. LaForge kicked both the extra points. The punting of Gardiner, substitute back, kept Arkansas in the game and helped them win.

ARKANSAS-6

BAYLOR-0

PLAYING very uninteresting ball for two quarters, the Porkers and Bears came back in the third quarter to furnish the 7,500 fans at Kavanaugh Field with plenty of thrills. C. Rucker covered a misplayed Baylor lateral on the five-yard line to put Arkansas in a scoring position. Criswell went over for the lone score after two line bucks. In the same quarter LaForge got away for a 41-yard dash, being pulled down on the 12-yard line. A few minutes later, Frisby intercepted a pass on the 1 yard line and ran 65 yards before Newby, the outstanding player of the day, pulled him down from behind.

AFTER having stopped several touch-down thrusts in the first half the Hogs weakened, mostly by the heat, and the Tigers took to the air to score two touchdowns for a safe margin of victory. Newby at center played the outstanding game for Arkansas but the Porker forward wall for the greater part of the game was impenetrable. A 52-yard pass heaved by Mickal was the turning point for the Tigers. LaForge was tackled behind the goal for a safety to bring the score to 16 against Arkansas.

ARKANSAS-7

TEXAS A. & M.-7

AFTER having led for three quarters the Razorbacks fumbled in the fourth to allow the Aggies to tie the score, almost as the game ended. Early in the second period a 76-yard drive culminating in a 23-yard pass from Al Harris to Paul Rucker put Arkansas ahead. The Aggies managed to hold the Porkers scoreless for the rest of the game and tied up the score when they recovered Geiser's fumble on the 25-yard line. A pass and three line plays brought a score for the Aggies and a tie with the Razorbacks.

ONE spread formation was all the Rice Owls needed to spread it on the Porkers in the Homecoming game played before 6,500 people, the largest to ever witness a game on the Razorback field. After having been stopped time after time Rice's All-American Wallace threw a pass, in the second period, to McCauley and the lone tally was all the Owls needed. The Arkansas line consistently outplayed the Owls but the scoring punch was lacking at the vital moments. Newby, Measels, Benton and Lake played outstanding football for the Porkers in the line while Geiser and Jordan were outstanding in the backfield.

ARKANSAS-6

S. M. U.-10

OVERCOMING a 3-point lead in the second period the Razorbacks kept the Mustangs under control until late in the last quarter when S. M. U. again scored and handed the Porkers their second conference defeat. The Mustangs scored on a field goal a few minutes after the game started but soon were trailing by three points themselves when a pass, Jordan to Choice Rucker, was good for a touchdown. Arkansas got a tough break in the third quarter when a touchdown play was called back and Arkansas penalized. Benton, Newby, Lake, and Howell were outstanding for the Razorbacks.

TEXAS-19

PLAYING their last conference game as well as their last home game of the season the Porkers and the Longhorns seesawed back and forth with the Longhorns ending up on top. After Texas scored a touchdown in the first quarter the Porkers came back in the second to score two by means of the air. A pass, Jordan to Geiser, netted the first, and another, Ray to Paul Rucker, accounted for the second. Arkansas left the field at the half leading by 5 points. Bohn Hillard, star Texas back, was too much for the Porkers in the last half and led his team to two more touchdowns in the third and fourth quarter. Old-timers said this game was the best that had ever been played on the Razorback field. We agree.

ARKANSAS-7

TULSA-7

WITH the majority of the regulars playing their last college football game it was Arkansas's time to come from behind and turn defeat at least into a moral victory. Playing on a wet field and minus the services of several star backs the Porkers were soon trailing 7 to 0 and indications seemed to point to that as the final score. The stage for the Arkansas score was set late in the fourth quarter when Ellis Gardiner punted 75 yards to the Tulsa ten-yard stripe. Tulsa punted out on the 24-yard line and Arkansas was able to bring it back up to the 2-yard line, after which Rucker carried the ball over. Geiser kicked the placement to tie the score. The entire Arkansas line was outstanding.

1935 FRESHMAN FOOTBALL TEAM

A SQUAD of 60 men, the largest in Arkansas yearling history, turned out for the freshman football team last fall under the tutelage of George Cole, Porker star of yesteryears. Included in the number were a half dozen all-state stars and all-state men from several other states, which helped to make the 1935 Razorback freshman football team one of the most outstanding in the Southwest.

Because the "Shoats" had to furnish opposition for the Razorbacks and were not given sufficient chances to have a set of plays of their own, they lost the first two games, but after the season got under way this defect was remedied and the team showed its prowess by winning most of the games that followed.

Bacone Indians set the freshmen back in a night game played at Fort Smith, in the rain, by a score of 6 to 0. Little Rock Junior College upset the dope bucket with a surprising 13 to 9 victory over the Frosh in another night game, this time played at Little Rock, to a crowd of three thousand or more, which is more or less an attendance record for the freshman games.

Playing on their home field the yearlings showed plenty of power and set the Tulsa University freshmen down 13 to 6, the day before the Home-Coming game. James Benton, end, showed up as another Schoonover in this game, and lived up to the high standard of football as set by his brother "Footsie" Benton.

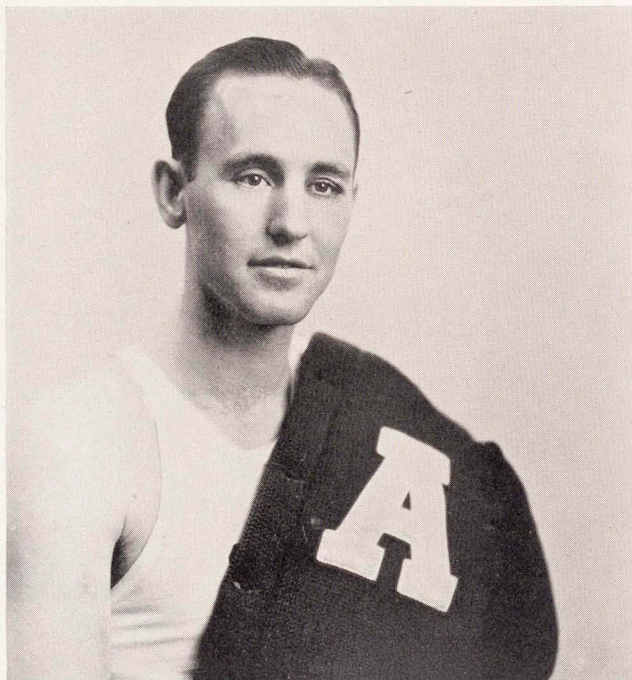

Jack Robbins, half, Bob Johnson, quarter, Captain Ed Word, half, Ray Hamilton and Benton, ends, Bob Stout and Tom Wright, tackles, and John Donaldson, center, were among the outstanding freshmen for the season and were given many favorable write ups in over the state papers, through the various sports columns.

Joe Biddle, former Porker fullback, assisted Cole in handling the freshman squad. His services to Coach Cole proved to be invaluable, and Joe was instrumental in seeing that the true Porker fighting spirit was established with the team.

FRESHMAN TEAM

BASKETBALL '34-'35

CAPTAIN TAFT MOODY

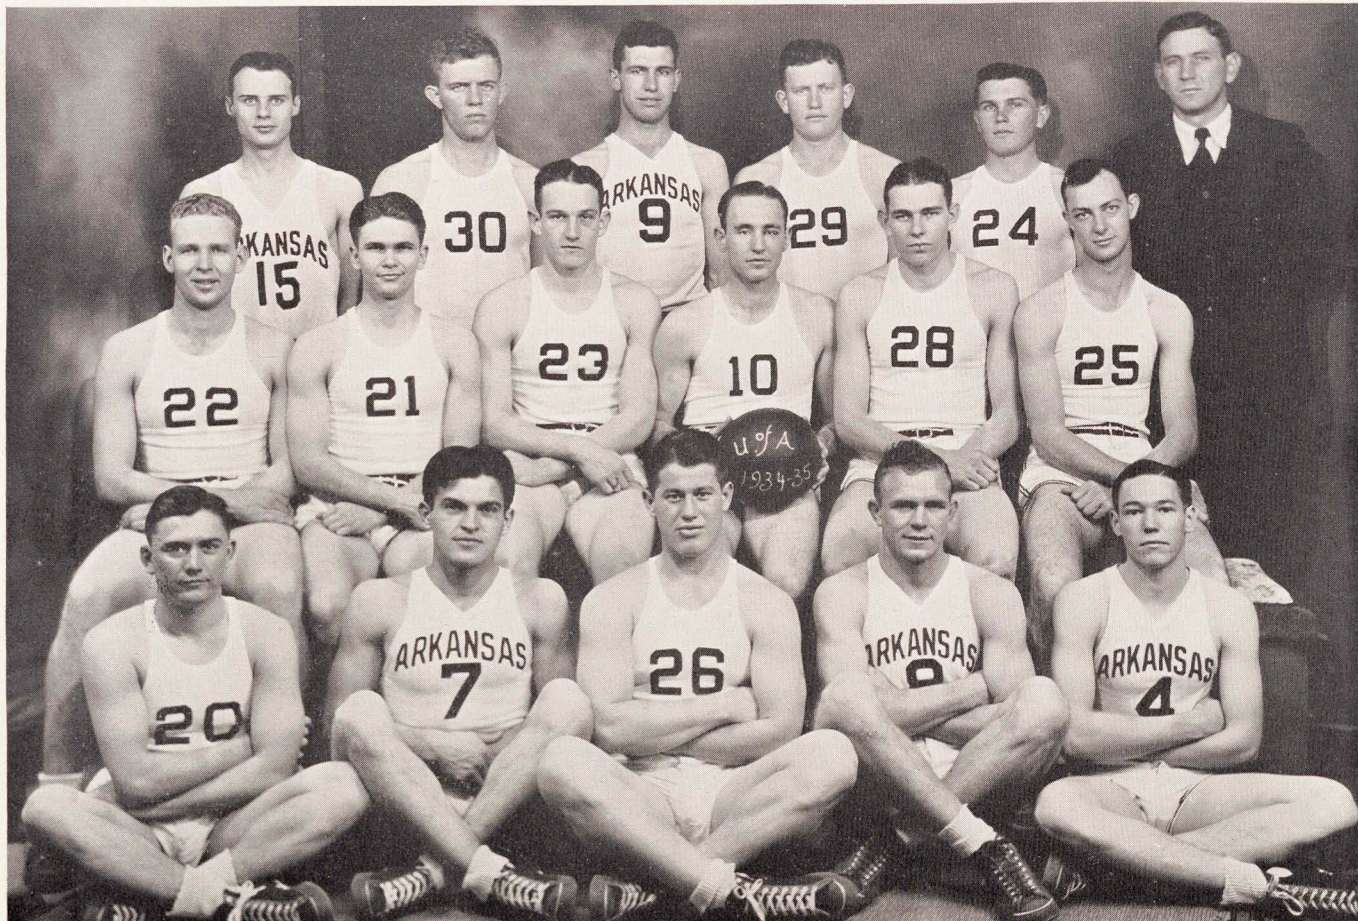

WITH six returning lettermen, three of whom were seniors, Coach Glen Rose had better than a six-foot squad with which to enter into the Southwest Conference basketball race.

Captain Taft Moody, all-conference forward last year, as well as this year, led his teammates in the opening games against the Oklahoma Teachers, emerging with two victories. Although the Porkers did not show up so well in the opening game, they came back the second night to pile up a score of 53 points to their opponents' 14.

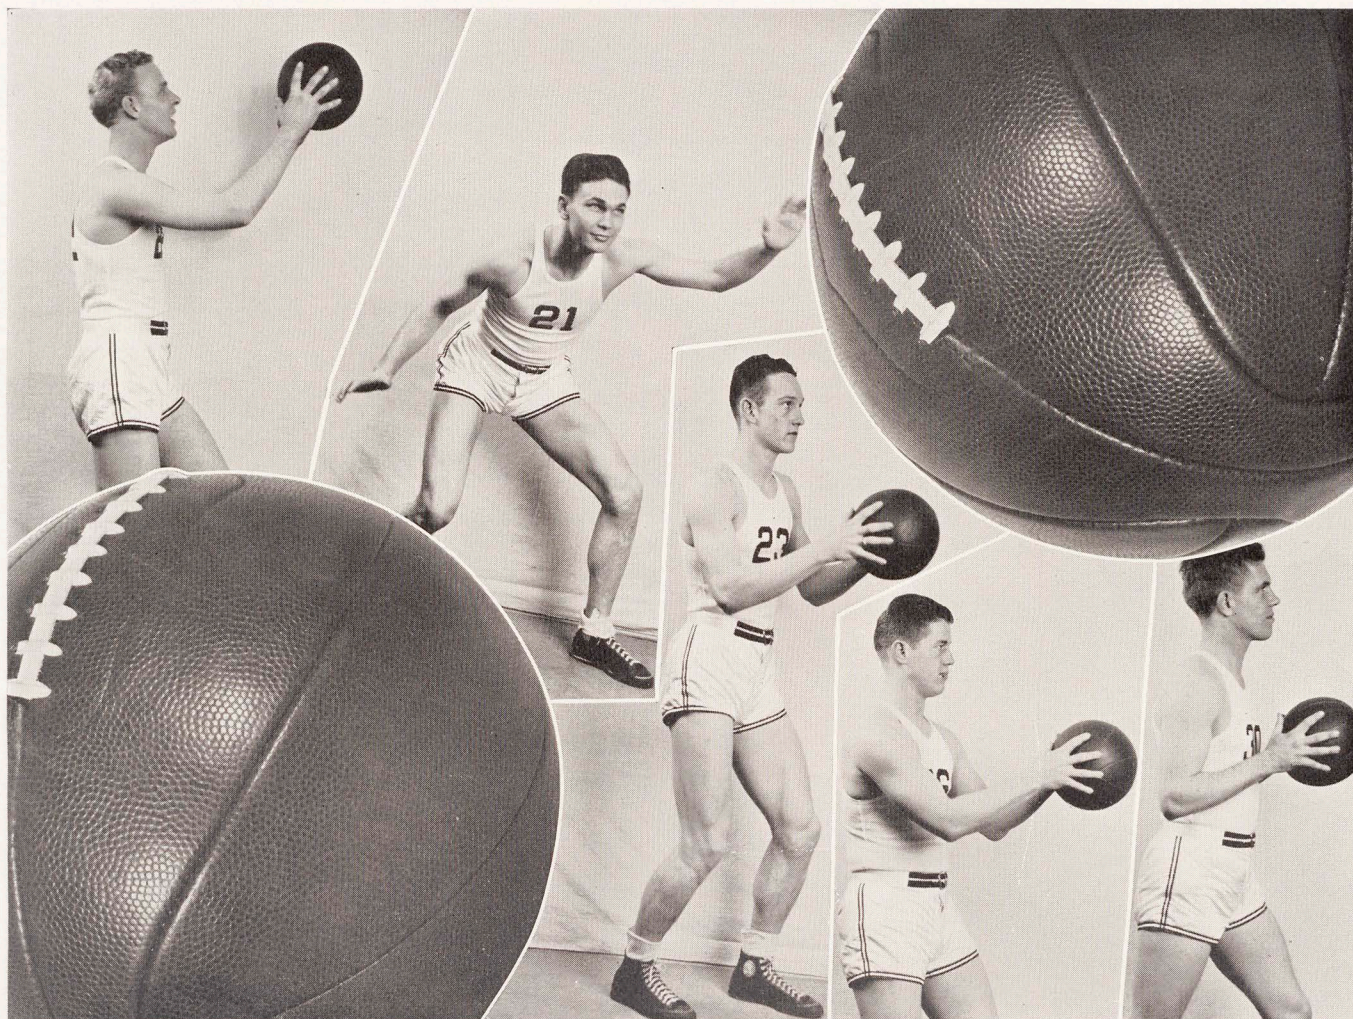

During the Christmas holidays the Porker squad went on a short road trip and dropped the first two games, both, however, by close scores. Tulsa defeated them once and the Tulsa Diamond Oilers, former A. A. U. champions, nosed them out by two points. After the holidays the Razorbacks avenged their first defeat by smothering the Tulsa University team by a score of 33 to 15.

Arkansas opened the conference race by taking two games from Rice in the local temporary "field house." One point was the margin of victory in the first conference game. Rice lost the second, 19 to 37.

Making their first road trip the Porkers skinned the T. C. U. Frogs twice and brought home the bacon. The Porkers forgot to root, instead they got up in the air to score 41 points to 20 in the first game and 42 to 24 in the second tussle.

PORKERS LOSE ONE

ARKANSAS traveled to Austin to take on the Texas Longhorns, and after taking the first game by 17 points dropped the second by 10. Trailing at the half of the first game by one point, the Porkers, led by Moody and Poole, found the basket in the second half for 34 points and defeated the Longhorns 47 to 30. However, in the second game the Porkers could never get started and lost 23 to 33. Jack Gray was the Texas star both nights. Twenty personal fouls were called on Arkansas the first night and 21 in the second game.

The following week-end the Razorbacks suffered their second straight loss when the S. M. U. Mustangs defeated them 30 to 22. Playing without the services of Captain Taft Moody, who received a hip injury in the Texas game which put him on the sidelines for the remainder of the season, the Arkansas attack never started. Gilliland, who took Moody's place, led the Porkers in scoring.

ARKANSAS LEADS CONFERENCE

TAKING a night off from their pursuit of the conference crown, the Porkers journeyed to Fort Smith to take on the Sports, an independent team. Despite the fact that every man on the squad was used, the Razorbacks could only score 60 points to their opponents' 32.

Arkansas took their fifth straight conference game from the Baylor Bears by a score of 37 to 27. Baylor pulled up to within two points of the Porkers with four minutes to play, but Arkansas began to shell the basket with goals and kept it up to the final gun. In the second game against the Bears Ike Poole scored 24 points, six of which were scored in the first half. As a result the Bears were easily defeated 48 to 30; Howell held Alford, the Baylor star, practically scoreless in these two games.

THREE-WAY TIE

LOSING the second game of the S. M. U. series put the Razorbacks in a three-way tie with the Mustangs and the Rice Owls. Arkansas had only 7 points at the half but the 20 points scored in the last half was not enough to catch up with the fast flying Mustangs who scored 20 points also to add to their 21 scored in the first half.

Closing the conference season the Porkers took two games from the Texas Aggies.

The lead changed six times in the first game Ray furnished the needed spark to put the Porkers out in front as the final gun banded. The score was 47 to 41. In the second game Arkansas again came from behind to swamp the Aggies 51 to 31. Poole rang up 19 points in the final half to boost his game total to 26. Sub-Captain John Fulton and Paul Rucker, both guards, played their last games in this series.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

COACH George Cole's 1935 edition of the freshman basketball team, by winning all of the eleven games that it played, experienced one of the most successful seasons that any other freshman team has had in the history of the University.

The freshman team, like the varsity, was composed of men nearly all of whom were well over six feet, and the "Little Porkers" also played the same type of game as the varsity. Bob Johnson, who had a game average of 9.91 points, and Jack Robbins, whose average was 9.27 points, were the leading offensive men, while Don Lockard followed closely with 6.82 points per game. It was largely through the wide-awake playing and ball hustling of Lockard that the team was able to amass the tremendous amount of points that it did during the season.

Outstanding defensive men were James Benton, Bob Stout, and Ray Hamilton, all three being guards and the tallest men on the team. During the season the total number of field goals was 175, total points equaled 478, the game average in field goals was 15.9, and the game average in points scored per game was 43.45.

The teams which the freshmen met and defeated, nearly all by top-heavy scores, are: Pea Ridge Independents, Fort Smith Junior College, Muskogee Junior College, Arkansas Tech, Lincoln, and Jerpe.

OTHER SPORTS

TRACK TEAM

ARKANSAS thinclads took part in their first indoor meet in the Tulsa A. A. U. meet the latter part of March with the Porkers winning three third places. Spivey in the shot, LaForge in the dash and Kitts in the 600-yard run, scored for Arkansas.

The fact that the Porkers were forced indoors, and the unfamiliarity which faced the team at Tulsa undoubtedly worked against the boys from Arkansas, but they displayed the true Porker spirit and took the results of the meet on the chin, but evened up the score at a later date.

In the second triangular meet with Hendrix and the College of the Ozarks, held for the first time in Fayetteville, on April 12, the Porkers scored 84 points, Hendrix 45½ and Ozarks 30½.

The Porkers truly showed their prowess in this meet and did their part in setting the new records, and tying most of the old ones.

Arkansas also defeated Tulsa University in a dual meet April 16 in Fayetteville, scoring 73½ points while Tulsa only scored 57½.

Even though the weather for this meet was not so good, it was an all-outdoor affair and the Porkers forged ahead to make amends for their previous defeat at the hands of the Tulsa thinclads.

Arkansas' team was composed of LaForge, Wynne, Barker, Honea, Gilliland, dashes; Kitts, Brain, and Harrison, middle distances; Spivey, Spillers, Van Sickle, and Haden, weights; Ray and Sherland, javelin; McDaniels and Van Sickle, high jump; Poole, Gardner, and Seamster, pole vault; Geiser and Poole, broad jump; and Tilmon and Wheelus, hurdles.

TENNIS TEAM

TENNIS SQUAD

Miller, Cope, Tuck, Pittman, Brooks, Sansom, Kane, and Coach Rose

ONLY one letterman, John Kane, remained from last year's tennis squad when Coach Glen Rose issued the first call for practice early this spring. Three players from last year's freshman team reported and were all able to make the team.

Arkansas won its first tennis matches from the College of the Ozarks and tied with the Oklahoma A. and M. tennis team, but lost twice to the team from Northeast Oklahoma Teachers at Tahlequah, once on the local court and once in Tahlequah.

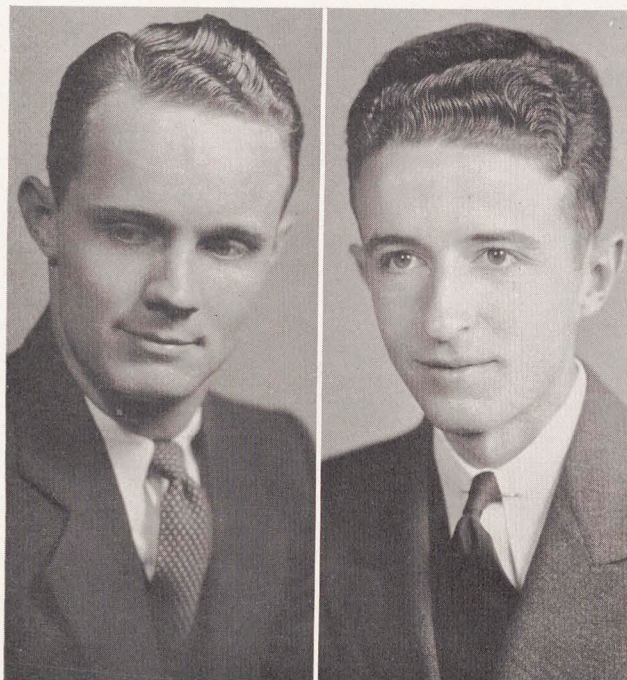

The schedule for the team this year was not a lengthy one, and even then the inclemency of the weather at the time of the various matches tended to change the schedule of the team many times.

Only one more series remains to be played, with the Springfield State Teachers College, at Springfield, on May 2.

John Kane, number one ranking player, is also captain. Members of the team are Kane, Frank Pittman, Bruce Miller, Henry Tuck, Sansom, Cope, and Brooks.

Under the expert guidance of Coach Glen Rose the Varsity team did show up well in all of the matches that they played. The attendance at the local matches this year reached a new high for Arkansas tennis. At the time the RAZORBACK goes to press the season is not yet over, but the prospects as to lettermen is very good and it is predicted that at least six letters will be awarded for tennis this year.

Intramural Managers

MORE students took part in intramural athletic events this year than in the past four or five years and more interest was shown in the different sports by outsiders than ever before. A record attendance for an intramural sport was set in the boxing and wrestling tournament when over 750 people turned out to see the final matches.

The annual sweepstakes race got under way early in the fall under the direction of Woodrow Pond and Bailey Mourning, intramural managers, and Coach Glen Rose, Director of Intramural Athletics. Tennis and touchball were first on the list of sports.

Henry Tuck, playing for Sigma Nu, won the tennis singles championship. Town won the doubles championship. Sigma Alpha Epsilon was crowned touchball champions for the second straight year, winning over Sigma Chi.

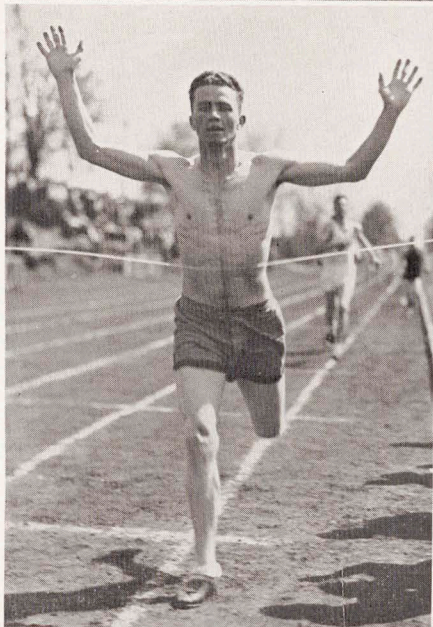

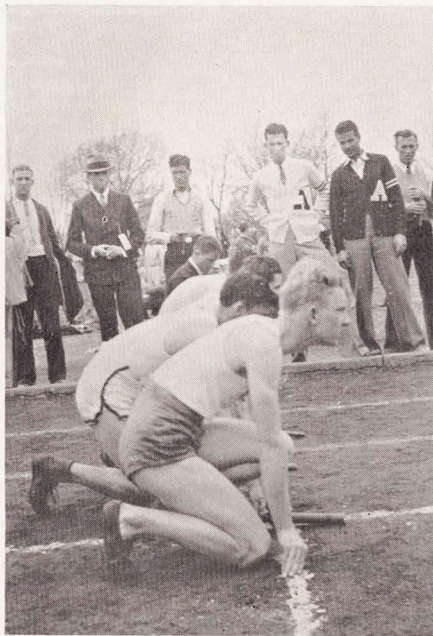

Volley ball, another fall sport, was won by Kappa Sigma with Pi Kappa Alpha as runner up. Lambda Chi Alpha won the basketball tournament, with the "B" team from the Dormitories as runnersup. For the first time in several years an All-Intramural basketball team was chosen by the managers. Philbeck and Sloan were placed at forwards, Brooks at center, and Sherland and Blair at guards.

INTRAMURALS

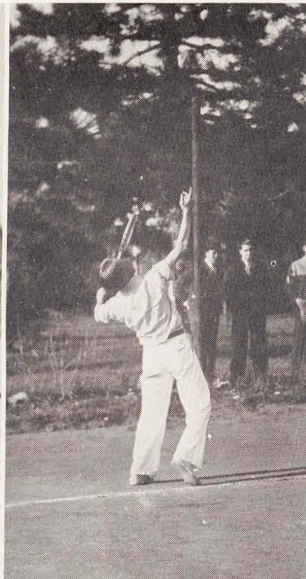

MORE students took part in the annual boxing and wrestling tournaments than ever before and over 750 people witness the final matches. Kappa Nu won the most points in wrestling and Kappa Alpha the most in boxing. Kappa Sigma was third, due to the large number of men entered by them. Winners in boxing were, Rhodes, Little, Barron, Philbeck and Montgomery. Wrestling winners were: Cohen, two weights, Benz, two weights, Lew, November, Robbins, and Campbell.

Other attendance records for the University were set in the boxing and wrestling matches, especially in the finals of both events. The temporary field house was again and again filled to the overflowing stage.

Editor's Note: The first two pictures at the top of this panel show the prowess of the photographer (Bus. Mgr. McMath) in getting fast action shots—the start and the finish as by McMath—finish so fast that the high speed camera could get only where they were!—(and that's his story, and he will stick to it.)

INTRAMURALS

AT the end of boxing and wrestling Kappa Sigma was ahead in the sweepstakes race with a total number of 568.5 points. Kappa Alpha was second with 392.5 points while Lambda Chi Alpha was close behind with 392 points. Town 1 team was fourth with 360 and Sigma Nu fifth with 347.5 points.

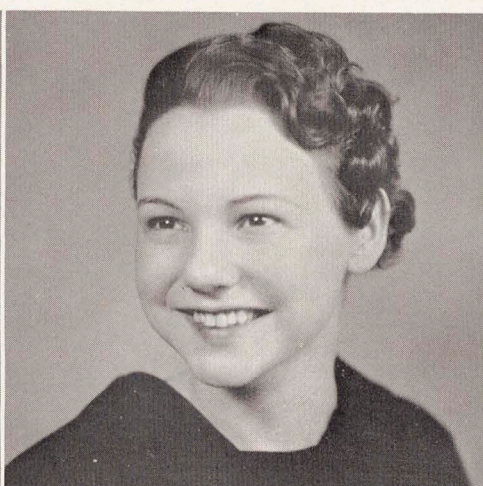

As the Razorback went to press, the Kappa Sigma softball team was meeting the Dormitory "B" team in the finals of that sport. Indications were that it would be a pitchers' battle between James Benton and Herman Seelig.

Golf, Hardball, the Horseshoe tournament and the track meet are the only events remaining on the Intramural schedule.

Rootin' Rubes was organized in 1925 at the University of Arkansas for the purpose of fostering all University activities and to encourage student loyalty and spirit among the students. It was organized as the little sister of the Arkansas Boosters' Club, composed of men from various organizations on the campus. Rootin' Rube is composed of four members from each sorority, Carnall Hall, 4-H Club and town.

This year seventeen blankets were awarded to senior letter athletes by the Rootin' Rubes. They also bought a cabinet for the Main building to put the basketball and football trophies in. Their plan is to obtain a new scoreboard for the football field.

CHARLES WHITESIDE
EDITOR "THE RAZORBACK"
UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS
FAYETTEVILLE - ARK.

First Class

Dear Mr Whiteside.

Hardly anyone ever agrees with a beauty judge after he has made a decision because there are so many ideas as to what constitutes beauty.

From an artist's viewpoint the construction of the head is most important, the bone structure we call it. We like hair simply done, most of us admire wide cheek-bones, large well set eyes, a small nose, and a full mouth. You might almost call it a peasant type, and to artists who like beauty of line and design it seems perfect. Garbo, Hepburn, Detrich, and Bennett have what I mean.

So ^{after} carefully studying these lovely girls from the University of Arkansas I pick as the winner No 4.

Then come 1 - 12 - 11 - 9 in the order named. Photographs are not very satisfactory to judge from because grace and personality and also the figure and hands are very important in making a decision.

However I've tried my best and hope my selection doesn't start a revolution in Fayetteville.

Sincerely

ARTHUR WILLIAM BROWN -

Activities

IN THE FOURTH ESTATE

By W. J. LEMKE

STUDENT publications are a unifying force on the Arkansas campus. They are builders of morale and school spirit. Giving time and space without stint to other university activities, they help make the success of athletics, dramatics, departmental organizations, scholarship and honor societies, possible.

The student journalist, whether on the Traveler, Razorback, Stooze, Engineer or Agriculturist, puts in long hours and hard work. But he gets no cheers from the bleachers, no applause from a packed auditorium, no eulogies in type. He is fortunate if he escapes caustic criticism from his readers or censorship from the powers that be.

The quarterback can fumble a punt and in the heat of the game his error is overlooked. The debater can quote a fallacy, the actor mouth his lines, the trombonist blow a sour note, or the politician make an idle promise. These are minor matters and soon forgotten. But let the journalist make an error in print and it is there for all the campus to see and has all the permanence of printer's ink.

The student journalist knows that his rewards are few and his honors transitory. He knows the penalty of a mistake in print. Yet he accepts the rules of the game and plays it to the letter. He deserves a cheer.

PUBLICATIONS BOARD—The guiding light of all publications of the University in ACTION at contract-letting time. Introducing—Chairman Dean Ripley, upon whom rests the burden of guiding the footsteps of the board. Dr. Hastings contributes his support as “protector” for the group. Students Gower and Henley, Engineer and Lawyer respectively, give the animated pose which represents their vital interest in the proceedings. Mr. Thalheimer of the Journalism Department listens attentively to the heated discussion. Facing the chairman we meet Mr. Carlson of the business office who at this moment is introducing his method for keeping down expenses—and what a method! Students Schilling and Vinson give their “aye” or “nay” in the final decision. Last of this famous board is Mr. Lemke—who wants to expound on the matter and to tell why or why not it should or should not be done. No wonder the Publications Board has made a name for itself.

The Board of Publications has control over student publications at the University of Arkansas. The RAZORBACK and the Arkansas Traveler are under direct supervision of the board, while the Arkansas Engineer and the Arkansas Agriculturist are under a budget committee.

The Board of Publications consists of four student members, four faculty members, and a faculty chairman, who votes in case of tie, this factor allowing the actual control of the board to be in the hands of the faculty, with the students having little or nothing to say of any importance at board meetings. It meets about every three months to have reports from the editors and the business managers.

The board plays an important part in governing the publications usually twice during the year, when the contracts for printing and engraving are let in the spring, and the selection of the candidates for the respective offices in mid-winter.

The editors of the 1935 RAZORBACK, throughout a year of hard work, planning, and worrying, have attempted to give you, the students, the kind of book that you wanted. In speaking of changes in the RAZORBACK, you will notice that the customary type of annual has been broken away from. The RAZORBACK of 1935 is divided according to the schools, with all of the organizations and clubs of that school put in that section. We hoped in this manner to give you an annual that was chronologically organized, and more the type that you wanted.

The feature section has been enlarged and the photography, we hope, will meet with your approval, as extra care was taken to have only those pictures that were the best, and plain enough so that they could be clearly distinguishable. The art work on the book was purposely cut down so that the money could be added elsewhere, with the result that we have the caricatures of our friends, the Deans.

Well, so much for the flowery explanation. We have tried our very best to give you, the students, what you wanted. If it in any way satisfies you, we are pleased, and will know that all of our efforts have not been in vain.

The success of any yearbook, from a financial standpoint, depends upon its advertisers. This year, as in the past, the RAZORBACK has had splendid co-operation from Fayetteville merchants and business firms. To those individuals who have so generously contributed we express our appreciation, and to the students of the University, we ask that you give these firms your support in every way, and that they be your trading places while in Fayetteville. To those out of the city we also express our gratitude, and hold every hope that the benefits of a state-wide circulation will also prove beneficial to you.

The RAZORBACK this year has been fortunate in securing the services of the Southwestern Engraving Company, Tulsa, Oklahoma, as Engravers, and of the Inland Printing Company, Springfield, Missouri, as Printers. We owe a debt of gratitude to Mr. R. C. Walker, for his guidance and service, and to Mr. Joe Ramp of the printing company, who have had the editors' goal of another All-American RAZORBACK constantly before them.

ARKANSAS TRAVELER

AN EDITOR'S COMPLAINT

All during the year the editor of a school paper has to listen to the complaints of the student body, and rarely has a chance to make any complaints himself. Besides, were he to complain of the publication set-up, the students would be uninterested and ignorant on the subject to begin with.

First of all, politics and not any common sense plan controls the publications on this campus. Regardless of what campus politicians might contend, the publication positions are political rewards and not promotions as rewards for service already rendered. It is entirely possible, though improbable, that any student, say an Agri, with absolutely no knowledge of newspaper or annual work, could be an editor were he to have sufficient political strength.

Students should be trained for staff positions and be allowed to gather their experience on high school papers and the like. They should serve apprenticeships on the publications that they hope to edit and tryouts should be held for the respective positions. Thus the students best qualified for the positions would be selected.

Editors should have at least two paid assistants who would be undergoing a period of training as well as helping the editor. Indeed, the editor has his assistants, but they work only out of friendship to the editor or because they hope to gain his support when election time arrives.

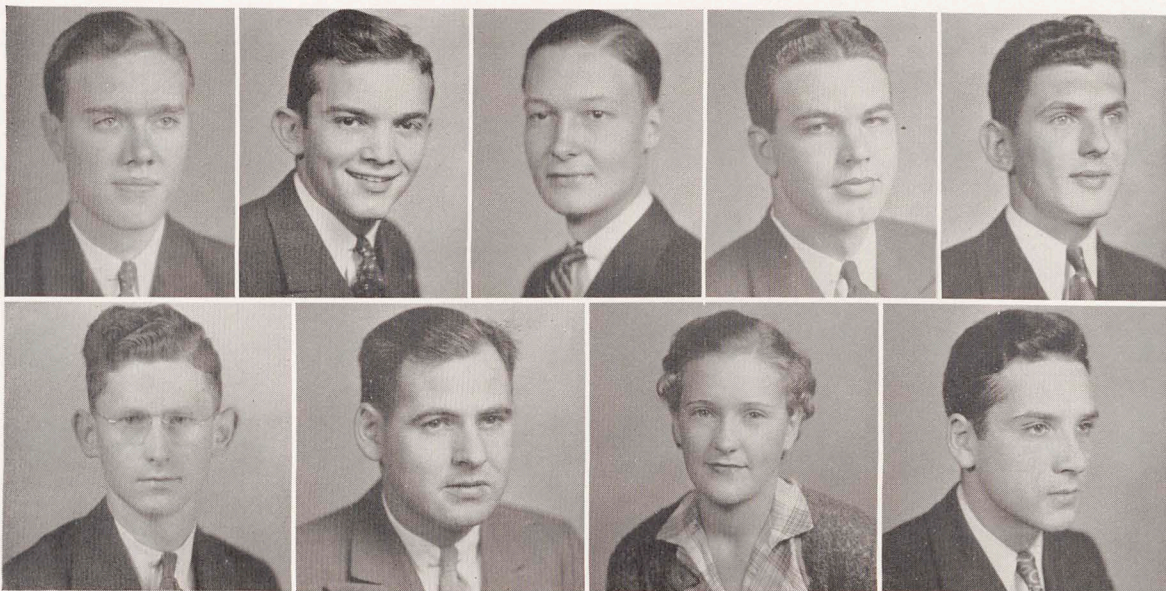

With a qualified publication board which knows the difference between ems and ens, line engravings and copper halftones, good and bad printing and engravings, and which would award the contracts to the best qualified concerns, and not the cheapest, the students could have the type of publications that they clamor for. Remember that the student body as a whole is responsible for the existing and old-fashioned methods of selecting editors and business managers and for the control and management of the publications.

Despite all the stumbling blocks in an editor's path, he is gratified by the efficient manner in which his staff functions, taking much of the work off his hands—and not for any monetary gains. To my staff, the greater number of whom are Seniors, is due any success that the Traveler might have had. A hard working and agreeable staff is the one bright spot in the dreary life of a college editor.

The Arkansas Agriculturist is a magazine published monthly by the students of the College of Agriculture. Its staff is chosen by vote of the student body of that college, and the administration of the magazine is entirely in the hands of agricultural students.

The magazine carries in its columns a balance of news, editorials, and articles of various topics pertaining to agriculture. A page in each issue is devoted to a message from C. O. Brannen, acting dean of the College of Agriculture. There are also occasional contributions from leading agricultural experts in other parts of the state.

The Agriculturist not only serves the students of the College of Agriculture, but is sent to all colleges and leading high schools of the state, in exchange for other papers. It is also sent to farmers and agricultural workers throughout the state, since many of its articles are of a technical nature of great benefit in helping to improve agriculture in Arkansas.

The editorial staff of the Agricultural College journal seeks journal news from every department of the college. The business staff is concerned with matters of advertising, circulation, and general financial welfare of the magazine. A special issue is prepared each year as a feature of Agri. Day.

The Arkansas Engineer, official publication of the University of Arkansas College of Engineering, is the oldest of the individual college journals. It was inaugurated in 1920.

The Arkansas Engineer is issued quarterly for distribution to all students of the college and to people all over the state who follow the activities of the University Engineering School. It is conducted by a staff of engineering students, with W. B. Stelzner and W. R. Spencer as faculty advisers.

This year the Arkansas Engineer issued an especially elaborate edition on Engineers' Day, using a two-color cover and a four-color frontispiece. Features of the journal include articles by students and professors, alumni news, editorials, and announcements.

The Arkansas Engineer is now a member of the Engineering College Magazines Association. This body accepted our magazine as a member at its Fourteenth Annual Convention held at Rose Polytechnic Institute, Terra Haute, Indiana, on October 16th, 1934. The recognition thus accorded us put the Arkansas Engineer into the class of the leading engineering college publications throughout the country.

The E. C. M. A. is an association of twenty-one established magazines, organized to develop better engineering college magazines, especially the right in securing more and better advertising. In order to carry out these objectives, especially to make the engineering college magazine a more attractive advertising medium to the national advertisers, a set of standards were adopted, and are: Limiting the member magazines to the size of 9x12 page, requiring greater regularity in issuing the magazines, and demanding greater editorial exactness.

The Arkansas Stooge is a monthly humor magazine published by a group of students banded together to fill (what they think is) a vacancy on the campus. The magazine was initiated and published by Margaret Wilkes in April, 1934. The Board of Publications later assumed control. There are no salaries paid staff members for their efforts.

CAMPUS LIFE

It's the Razorbacks at Little Rock again for the Baylor game, and Pruny Kane smiles with Maids Page, Hearne and Hunt.

Phyllis Houston and "Gertie," Razorback cheer leader, smile for the cameraman.

Miss Baylor and maids ride down Main street and the parade proceeds before the opening of the Baylor-Arkansas game.

The "Special" arrives at Union Station, and "General" Lee of Kappa Alpha is seen managing the bags of two Marys, Alexander and Berry.

Sidney meets Elaine from Ouchita. Note displeasure.

"Jelly" Warnock and "Snooks" Crumpler as they lead the Razorback band—contributing a lot to the gala day.

"Katie" looks like she's lost a tooth here—another view of the sponsors' float.

James Leslie and Pruny—a-la-Hunt in background, stage the grand entrance at the beginning of the game.

"Greg" holds up traffic for the Razorback band.

While Delta Delta Delta Pittman smiles as she returns to her home town for the game.

Parthenia "Pruny" Kane, the Pi Beta Phi choice for Baylor Sponsor, represents the Bears.

The tag sale assures the Arkansas band of arrival by "special" train.

"Home-coming" at Arkansas, and the Chi Omega float assures a royal welcome.

A frosh gives an accurate interpretation of La Hunt, carrying off a home-coming prize for Freshman tacky costumes. The band in Schular town passes the Palace drug store, where students, old grads, and former Razorback rooters await. Queen Lasley and her maids watch Arkansas' battle with Rice.

Gordon Holcomb, Eminent Commander of Sigma Nu Epsilon Tau Tau, appears to be watching the game—or waiting for the half??

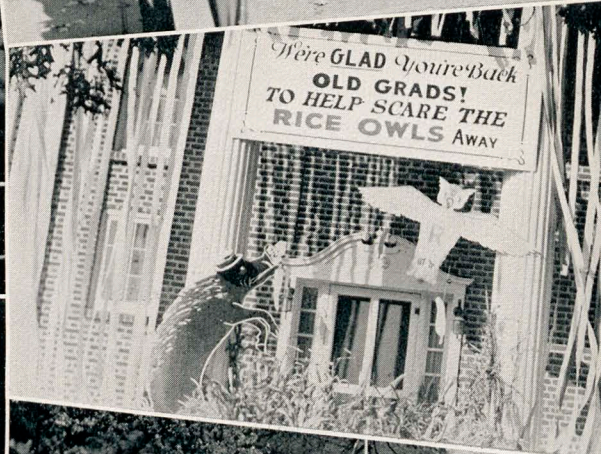

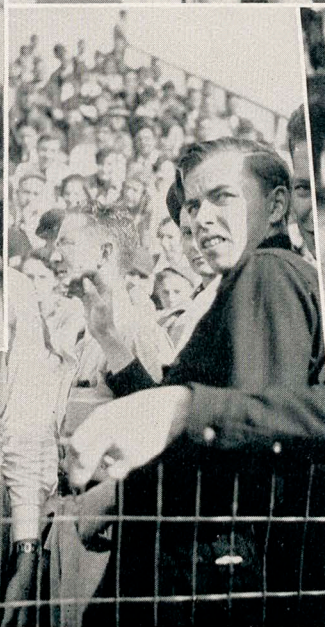

Captain Walter Neeley parades Company "G" for the Home-Coming crowds.

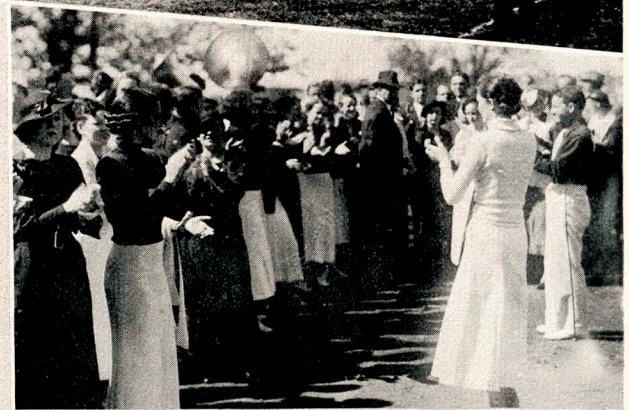

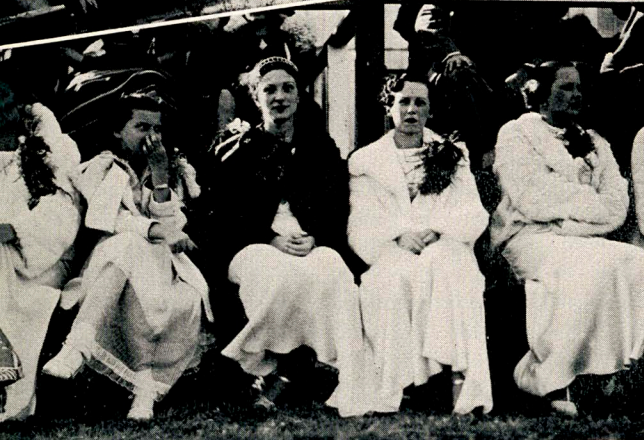

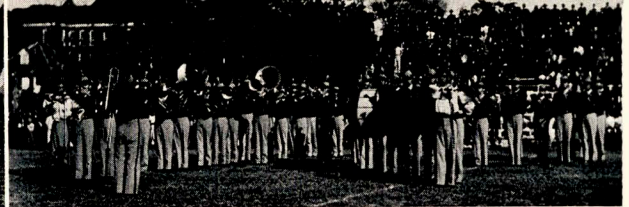

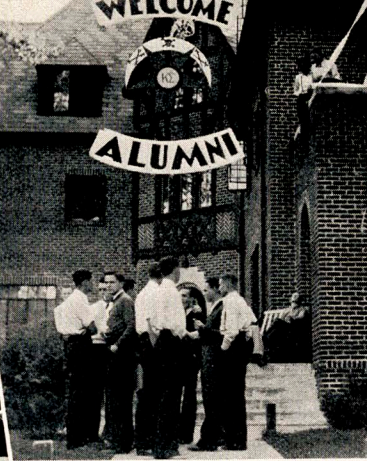

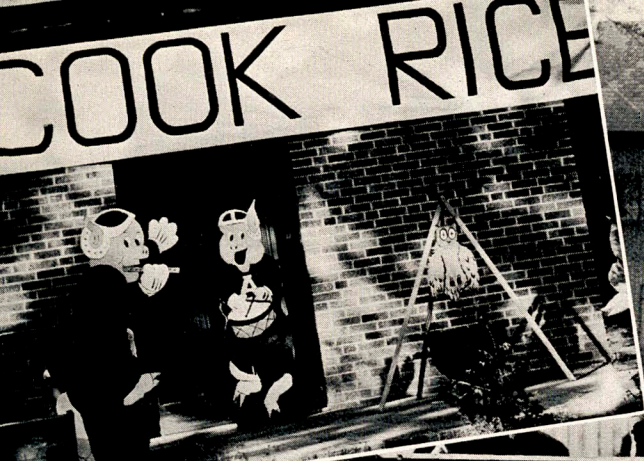

More R. O. T. C.; and the Chi Omega house in decoration represents a field of real rice, thanks to Madeline Smith of Wheatly.

The Kappa Kappa Gamma float is a miniature Main Building.

Mary Lasley, Chi Omega, who was chosen Home-Coming Queen as a result of the winning sales tag drive, and rules as Queen of the Thirteenth Annual Home-Coming.

The Pi Phi float—S. S. Alumni unfortunate in the disqualification due to letters on the back.

The Tri Deltas show originality in Home-Coming decorations, with Joe Ben hiding behind the Flute Blowing Delta Pig. A few Kappa Sigma pledges survey results of the work on Home-Coming decorations.

The Rice band in formation at half of Rice-Arkansas game.

The Arkansas queen and maids hurry from the field at the beginning of the second half.

Here's Chi Omega Lasley, with her maids, Pendleton of Tri Delta, Jessamine Huff, M. Jane Thompson and Mascot Cybert watching the game.

Another frosh in a creative costume, this time South Sea Islander.

Frances "Hebe" Holt helps Gertie with the yells as Leslie and the "Rootin' Rubes" do their part.

The Kappa Sig World Nooze a-la-Jack Young, wins first place with the judges and it tells of the K. Z. raid in '31; Hoot Gibson's record of campus politics, and the time when Polly Pendleton had ten lerves.

"Feathers Fly as the Hog Goes By" is the theme of the Pi Beta Phis decorations.

Another view shows the Chio float with Patterson, Fisher and Hilton standing, and wondering—will that parade ever start?

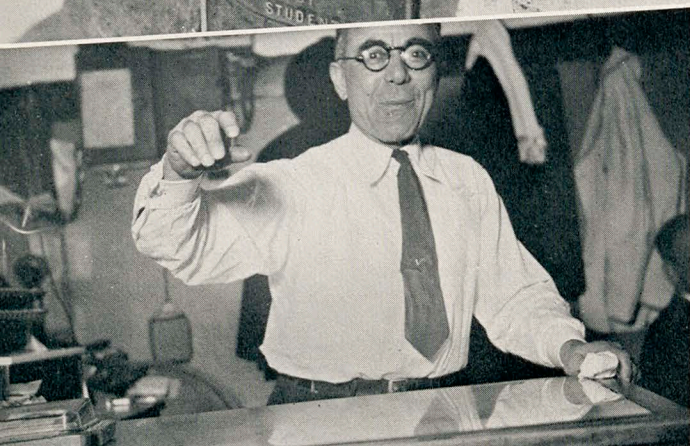

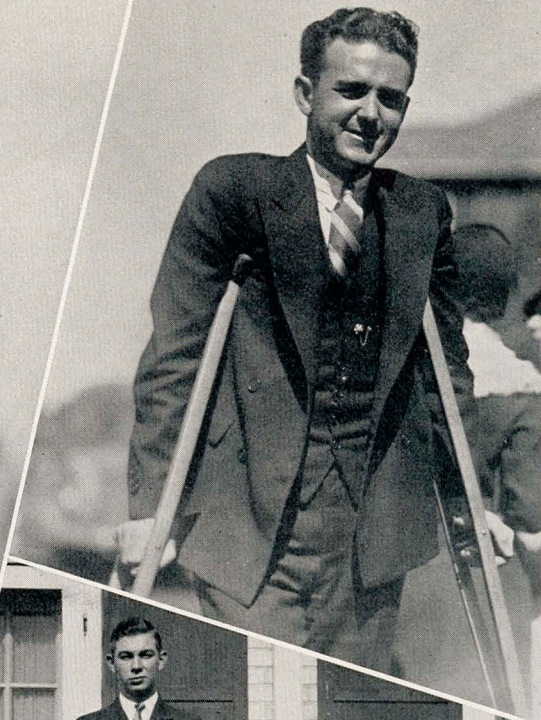

"On to Victory" say the Delta Delta Deltas with Hunt, as usual, in the foreground.

A crowded grandstand reminds Arkansas Boosters of the need of a greater stadium for Arkansas fans.

Mary hands "Footsie" Benton the ball, s'matter dawg?

Maston Jacks paddles down Schular town streets, learning to respect the rules of the Vigilance Committee.
 The Governor of Arkansas shakes the hand of Razorback Exhibition Band Mascot at the L. S. U. game. It's Dorothy Fugitt.
 "And the farmer hauled another load away." No, you're wrong—it's a K. Z. frosh, Harry Crumpler, in disguise.
 The foot of the Agri, marking the way to a greater Agri Day exhibit in Agri Building.
 Ed Lightfoot again gives up his badge of Pi K. A.; and this time it's poor Jo Cook, a newcomer to the campus. $80,-
 000.00 Lightfoot sends candy to the sisters in Pi Beta Phi—and then helps eat it—
 Huey Long tells the L. S. U. players how it's done as the camera catches this characteristic pose.
 Agri Day shows clever parade devices, and the Kappa Sigs say they can take it.
 Puzzle: Find Sherland, president of Associated Students.
 This was not taken on the campus—just a photo of two bushels of old bottles—well?

Faithful old Sam, the nightwatchman, makes the student dance on his nightly rounds, and finds all is well. Vinson, a Kappa Kappa Gamma, shows her pepsodent smile, and enthusiasm for the Razorback victory.

Buck Nobles, commander of Sigma Nu, seems to have had an accident, and hobbles to his classes on crutches for a week or so.

The sign in red, on this appropriate stone—read the plate, and the fancy art work, freshmen of '36, and beware, 'cause the goblins will get you if you don't watch out—

A pile of the Sigma Chi frosh prepare the house for the first dinner dance to start a social season, with Hearne supervising J. Jernigan, A. Ponder, Wamsley and others.

George DePamp has a protest, but the camera still gets this characteristic pose. What, this check was hot?

Lee Cline and Carl Bowman hold sway at the K. K. G. house.

After-the-ball-election? (This picture was not made on the campus) but they say somebody's straight ticket went through.

Chi Omega pledges, Taylor and Young, are qualified members of the girls' rifle team. Qualification: Riding boots and pants.

Elward Ware seems to be having a hard time making "Ditty" Curl stand up and smile for the camera.

Two blushing athletes, Sherland and Poole, in a forceful pose.

Billy Lee again visits the sorority houses as spring is just around the corner. Where was Ellis, Katie?

Glover Delaney, who can't see Shewmake often enough, tries to make a rather unusual entrance in the Chio house, but Joplin, Murchinson stand guard.

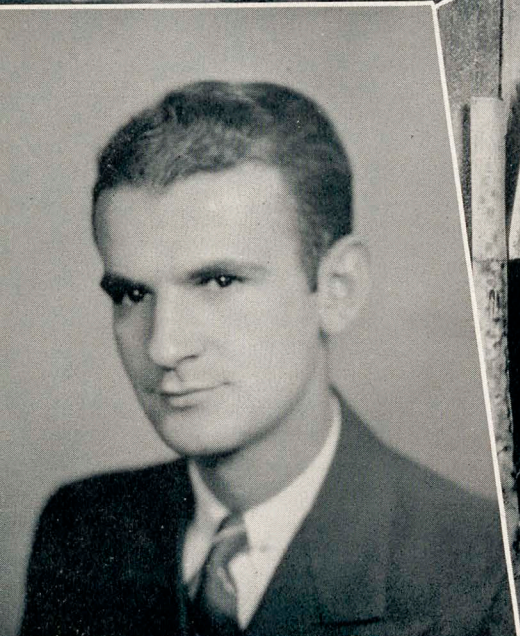

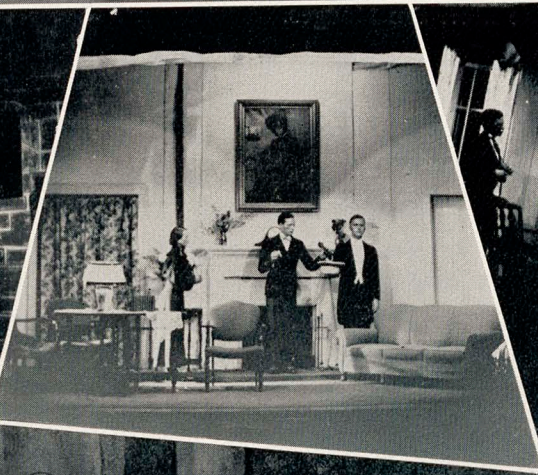

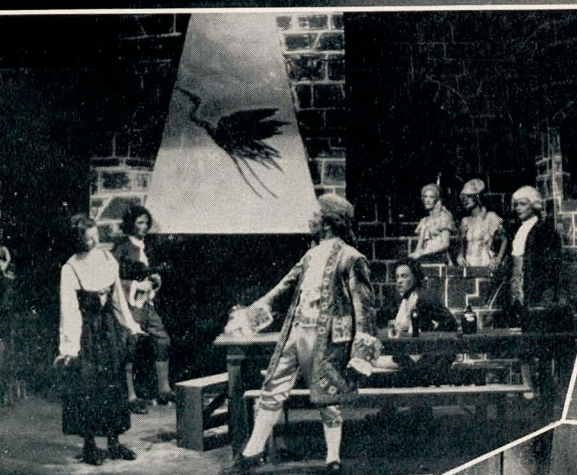

A peaceful cat among the disordered K. K. G.'s at election time.

Mr. Pond, the major, is Nells Laird's choice for head man.

Maurine Edminston and a friend watch the boys on a Thursday afternoon drill day.

Kanester Hodges, who holds the double honor and distinction of having made the highest grades in law school and being the husband of Harryette Morrison Hodges.

A few of the dramatic productions of the year, some of which have been the best we've seen in a long time. Here's "Warpin' Wharf," with the entire cast, in the closing scene.

Jean Foutz, who has had the lead in the majority of plays this year, has been outstanding in play production.

A scene from "Black Flamingo," showing Evans, Ellis, and Danforth in the background, Plishner and Foutz in the foreground.

A scene from the "Queen's Husband" shows Kerr a butler.

Another shot of the "Queen's Husband."

Mike Plishner who has taken the male lead in all of the major productions but one this year, has done some fine work.

Another scene from "Warpin' Wharf" with Mary Louise Stuart in a characterization that will not be forgotten, and done remarkably well.

A private shakes in his shoes as the National Inspector attends R. O. T. C. field day.

No secrets, please—but Franny Pittman seems to be telling Polly, Frankie, Elaine, and Virginia Ellen a good one.

Who's this? It's just Margaret Wilkes pleading for subscribers to her brain child, The Arkansas Stooage.

Bill Summers, S. A. E., reads a page at the last minute before the bell rings. Better late than never, says Bill.

Thea. Epes, another Helena representative, must be thinking about Marjorie—or perhaps his recent trip to Ft. Smith.

Rosalie Watt refuses to have anything to do with Clyde Brown, or anybody, since there's nobody but "Doc" at W. & L.

Bob Henderson came to school on horseback—but now she and Edith Bell Ryan are the possessors of "Baby Blue," a clever Ford, except a bit damp in rainy weather.

Four well-known collegians—P. D. Burton, the most collegiate since Finkle left, Lucy Wilmans, Clyde “Major” Brown, and none other than “Wis” Leatherman, watching the tennis meets, and from Clyde’s expression his Hot Springs protege must be losing.

Margaret Seamster, president of Pi “Gregory” Phi.

Two Pi Phis, Metz and Brown, use the new walk—bearing the inscriptions of famous Chi Omegas, Pi Phis, Kappa Nus, and Lanier’s cleaning force.

“Senator” Simms and Carter Brown are all dressed up and nowhere to go.

Willis Guinn, our six-point Business student, also gains the highest point available at the track meet—and after elections.

The Spoofer’s Stone at midnight—sure—and in the spring, too—??—

And then there are the Hendrix transfers!—and Sister Jacoway leads them all.

Nellie B. finds crossing the street a difficult job. Careful, Nellie!

The Law School—anytime. Here are Lawyers Boatright and Bell in the foreground.

The familiar stamping at the Woman's Gym, with Rowles taking in the shekels for—Mr. Cypert and the Athletic Department.

Young finds a love at the Pi Phi House—Virginia Hinkle—'twas said two people more alike could never be found.

Mr. Cherry gains following, and is elected president of the Seniors of '36.

The Sigma Chi claim good natured Dick Jackson, even if he is a "Dek," and Dick claims Genevieve Sallee, who wears the Arrow and the Dek pin, also Ahlfeldt of "Stooge"—"Ahlfeldt and a yard wide" fame.

McMath tries his old political grip first on Bill Coleman, a veteran in the game. Some politicians, these two.

Brother "Whis" James Harris with Phoebe, who incidentally changed that name to Mr. James R. Harris, seem to be enjoying the belated arrival of spring.

V. L. Moore of the Delta G. Lodge also liked the way that the election went. What-say, (H. F.) Milum?

Miss Carrie of the "Campus Cafeteria" seems to like the High School Week, with all the nice business that goes with it. Why, Sister Gertie—you really don't think that about anybody that would take a picture of you—now, do you? (Yes—CENSORED.)

Future General Cline is really glad that the inspection is at last over—and now for the commission.

Under-dog (Pistol Gunn) of the big city of Jooo-plin, shows the fine spirit of co-operation that he gives the boys in cleaning up the K. Z. hotel.

"Katie" Hardin one minute after the returns from those—"Oh-so terrible," etc.—comprehensives of the Business School are announced.

And from these pictures A. W. Brown picked the "Beauty" section for the 1935 RAZORBACK.

Muddy Lake, our famous football player, does go to college—and to the Engineering School, too. What a man tnis Lake!

Watch out, now, Rosie, you don't think Ruth Ellston is really listening, do you?

Another year, another Freshman Class, another Freshman Queen, and our old friend, "Sweetheart" Wells, in love with her.

Linus adds finishing touches to his wearing apparel on the night of the big student rally.

John Anderson sez "Oh, my, do I have the spring fever? Let me tell you."

The famous Lambda Chi fish club, the Sucker chapter, claims Brother Dinger Lane and Edward Bell as outstanding members. Both sponsored by Chios. Rumor says John Rollow bids fair for membership, what with taking Lynn to dinner every Sunday.

Standing room only in the Chi Omega House after a dance—and "Dink," "Ditty," Moody, Ware, Lasley, Leslie and Gertie are sharing a small corner.

Intramural baseball provides interest in the spring, especially for—Bell, Williams, Walls and the rest of (T. H.'s) on-lookers.

The boys at the Lambda Chi House are interested in a game of—well—looking at a few.
 Newby and DuBard turn their backs to the camera—or is it Mary Almy—but Easton and Bid don't mind at all.
 Roscoe-Zilch-the-Bearded-Lady-Chase, attended by Freshman Ferguson, celebrates the well-known high school week-end.
 Otte and Beckman find Beckman's green creation just the thing for trips—to Schular town. You should see Beckman's room at the K. Z. House!
 Dick "Sas" Sansom is an athlete, a gentleman and a scholar. But where did you get your name, Dick?

T. Burton Lewis (most outstanding Engineer!) was demonstrating something about milking a cow during High School Meet, but Bossie didn't like the idea.

The chaperones at the Woman's Gym during one of the fall formals.

Lucretia Hilton says "This is what I got for Christmas—a real pigskin jacket." His name is Bob—and he goes to Hendricks—Oh, well!

Two athletes watch the boys hurl the discus—recognize One Round, Bucket-Head Rucker?

George Eldridge must have felt like he looks here as Dean Ripley called him for his fifteenth conference.

Charley Gardner, a former Russellville High School track star, clears the pole in this neat vault, for dear ole K. Z.

Evidently Louise McCulloch didn't like the idea at all, and this face is the result. There's Pud, her Marianna boy friend (Beauty a-la-natural—oh, my, is she mad?)

Another Agri Day—and all is well with the arrival of the band—per uniforms for the day, and the Peace Treaty signed with the Engineers.

Linus Williams, the new editor of the Traveler, steps out with "Babs" Payne. He's smiling now, but wait until this time next year!

Three to-be-prominent lawyers, K. A. Joe Rhodes, with Brothers Ware and Lee of the eat-'n'-sleep lodge (S. A. E. to you and you 'n' you) taking in the military "manooovers." What's that you say, Joe? (That remark—CENSORED—was about the ability of a certain photographer.)

And here we have the famous straight ticket, which went right on through on April 3rd, with the respective lucky ones. What-a-landslide!

Spring's here—'n' tennis—'n' shorts—'n' everything. Good game, this tennis.

Mr. Jelly—As Usualer-scandal-monger—on the air—Warnock, finds the scandal business a bit dull with everybody studying for the well-known finals, and has to grab a few (?) stories out of the thin air to get that copy in on time.

And here's the way that the boys lived at the R. O. T. C. camp last summer, with Buck Privates Groves and Boat-right having a hard time holding Wildman Yauch of Theta Nu fame, or rather ill-fame—

The Pan-Hellenic Council, with two members from each sorority has general control over inter-sorority matters. The purpose of the organization is to regulate rushing, to promote cooperation and good feeling between the various chapters, and to work together for the good of the University and its women students.

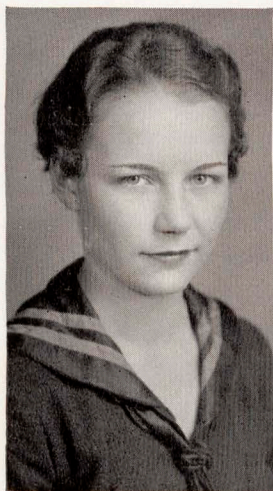

Miss Martha Reid, Dean of Women at the University, is the faculty advisor for the Association, and to her should be given much credit for the success of its administration. Meetings of the Pan-Hellenic Council are held once a month in the office of the Dean of Women.

Chi Omega was organized at the University of Arkansas April 5, 1895, by Ina Mae Boles, Jobelle Holcombe, Alice Carey Simmonds, and Jeanne Marie Vincenheller. They were assisted in planning their organization by Dr. Charles Richardson, Kappa Sigma, who, in consideration of this service, was made sole honorary member.

There are at present eighty-seven active chapters and two inactive. The total membership is now about 16,000.

The open declaration of Chi Omega is "Hellenic Culture and Christian Ideals." Included in the program of the fraternity is the Service Fund, the income of which is used to publish special research studies in educational, social, scientific, or civic lines.

Zeta Tau Alpha was founded as the Virginia State Alpha, Virginia State Normal School at Farmville, Virginia, October 15, 1898, and was chartered as a legal corporation by the legislature of Virginia March 18, 1902. Since the former date the fraternity has expanded until it now has sixty-seven chapters in the United States and Canada.

Government of the fraternity is vested in a grand chapter composed of five officers. The legislative government is vested in a convention. The fraternity's central office is located at Beaumont, Texas. Chapters of Zeta Tau Alpha are grouped in twelve provinces, with a province president appointed over each. There is a scholarship loan fund, not necessarily limited to members of the fraternity.

Epsilon chapter was established at the University of Arkansas on December 18, 1903, and was the second national women's fraternity on the campus. The local which petitioned Zeta Tau Alpha was named Delta Phi. Epsilon was the fourth established chapter of the fraternity.

Pi Beta Phi was founded in 1867 at Monmouth College, Illinois, and was the first organization of college women organized with the aims and policies of a national fraternity. It was originally called I. C. Sororis, but in 1888 the name was changed to Pi Beta Phi Fraternity, and as such it is incorporated under the laws of the State of Illinois. The fraternity now has seventy-eight active chapters located in the leading colleges and universities of the United States and Canada. Pi Beta Phi has 144 chartered Alumnae Clubs. The total active membership of the fraternity is approximately 19,000.

The fraternity, by voluntary contributions of members and alumnae, maintains a Settlement School at Gatlinburg, Tennessee, established in 1912 as a memorial to the 12 founders of Pi Beta Phi. Situated on over one hundred acres of its own land in eight well-equipped buildings, the school offers work covering eleven grades. It has an enrollment of nearly 150 and a teaching staff of nine members.

Arkansas Alpha Chapter of Pi Beta Phi was founded at the University of Arkansas in 1909. A new $40,000 home was completed in February of 1931. The publication is "The Arrow."

Delta Delta Delta was founded at Boston University, Thanksgiving Eve, 1888. The founders, Eleanor Dorcas Pond and Ida Shaw Martin, on that day associated with them twenty undergraduates and organized as a national sorority. The spirit of Delta Delta Delta has so been shared that there are now seventy-six college chapters and eighty alumnae chapters in the United States and Canada. Delta Delta Delta now numbers in its membership more than 15,000 women.

The local chapter of Delta Delta Delta, Delta Iota, was granted a charter November 15, 1913. The anniversary of the chapter is celebrated annually by the return of Tri Deltas from all parts of the state to the chapter house for the Delta banquet given on that day.

Delta Delta Delta sponsors three endowment funds, the National Endowment Fund, the Trident Endowment Fund, and the Visiting Endowment Fund. The sorority is now building up a Thanksgiving Endowment Fund which is to be used for altruistic purposes among college women to further higher education. The three publications of Delta Delta Delta are the Trireme, the Triglyph, and the Trident.

Kappa Kappa Gamma was founded at Monmouth College, Monmouth, Illinois, in March, 1870, but did not make its public appearance until October 13, 1870, the anniversary of which date is observed as Founders' Day. There are now sixty-three active chapters, including three in Canada; nine inactive chapters, and ninety-nine alumnae associations. The total membership of the fraternity is over 17,000.

The management of fraternity affairs is in the hands of the National Council. The fraternity is grouped into ten geographical provinces, which hold biennial province conventions, alternating with the year of the National Convention. The central office is located at Columbus, Ohio.

The fraternity sponsors various philanthropic funds, among which are the Rose McGill Fund and the Students' Aid Fund. The latter was founded in 1902 as a memorial to the founders, and now totals $52,000. It is available as scholarship loans to any woman student in the institutions where Kappa has a chapter.

Publications of the fraternity include a quarterly magazine, "The Key," the song book, and a catalogue of members.

Delta Gamma was founded at Lewis School, Oxford, Mississippi, on January 2, 1874. It was the first national women’s fraternity to have its beginning in the South. There are forty-six active chapters, twelve inactive, and its membership is about 12,000.

Five editions of the catalogue have been published since 1888, five of the song books since 1895 (a sixth now ready for publication), and two histories since 1901. The journal is the “Anchor,” which has been published annually since 1884.

A $50,000 student loan fund provides to assist worthwhile undergraduates.

Delta Gamma’s outstanding philanthropic work is the Delta Gamma Clinic in Marchienne, Belgium, which was established during the war. $28,000 was raised for the Belgian refugee children.

Alpha Omega chapter was installed April 10, 1930, at the University of Arkansas.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

The Interfraternity Council is made up of twenty-six members, two from each fraternity on the campus. This year the council has worked out new rushing rules and solved the problems that confront all of the various organizations on the campus. The council's purpose is to create a closer harmony among the various fraternity groups on the campus both the national and the local. This year the uniform rush cards to be used by all of the fraternities on the campus have been issued, along with the rules of rushing, and the adoption of the "third date system," of rushing.

Kappa Sigma was founded at the University of Virginia, December 10, 1869, by William G. McCormick, George M. Arnold, Edmund Law Rogers, Jr., Frank C. Nicodemus and John C. Boyd.

From its inception it was intended that Kappa Sigma should expand into other institutions and become a widespread organization, but it was not until 1873 that the founders saw their plans take definite shape, although a chapter had been established at the University of Alabama shortly after the parent chapter was organized.

Arkansas Xi Chapter was established in 1890. The chapter existed as the Richardson Club, named after Dr. Charles Richardson, of Fayetteville, during the period that fraternities were barred from the University of Arkansas Campus, between the years of 1901 and 1903.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon was founded in 1856 by eight students of the University of Alabama, who had become hard and fast friends. In its early days it remained in the South, the first chapter north of the Mason and Dixon line being established just before the Civil War. At present the orders number one hundred and eight active chapters with an initiated membership of over 37,000. Working in collaboration with the active chapters are one hundred and five alumni associations in American cities and Paris, France. Of these, there are three in this state. Publications are fraternity histories, directories, secret publications, and the periodical magazine, "The Record," which is a quarterly with a circulation of 30,000.

National headquarters are maintained at Evanston, Illinois. In the National house, owned by S. A. E., there is a large library of books concerning fraternity subjects in general and a museum devoted to the American college fraternity. Conventions are held biennially, and in alternate years province conventions meet. The local chapter, Arkansas Upsilon, was established on the University campus in 1894 with a chapter enrollment of seventeen.

Kappa Alpha Order was founded December 21, 1865, at Washington and Lee University. The bleeding South was just emerging from the Civil War, and four students of what was then Washington College banded together to start a movement to foster and maintain the manners, customs, and ideals of the Southern people. They looked to Robert E. Lee, who was at that time president of Washington College, as their ideal.

Kappa Alpha has confined itself to the South. The order now has sixty-seven chapters located in the principal colleges and universities of the South. Alpha Omicron was installed April 27, 1895. Before binding itself to the national fraternity, it was a local fraternity of ten men.

The Kappa Alpha Order is organized in seven provinces and these officiated by Province Commanders, Secretaries, and Alumni Historians. Over these provinces are a Knight Commander, a Grand Purser, a Grand Historian, and a Chief Alumnus. Professor Allan S. Humphreys, a member of the local chapter, is now serving as Grand Purser. Official publications are the Kappa Alpha Journal, the Special Messenger, Directory, and Kappa Alpha Song Book.

Sigma Nu originated from the Legion of Honor, a secret organization. The Greek letter name was adopted on January 1, 1869, at the Virginia Military Institute, Lexington, Va. James F. Hopkins, of Arkansas, was the recognized leader of the Legion of Honor, which opposed the overbearing control of another society. Hopkins, designer of the badge of Sigma Nu, was associated with Greenville Quarles and James M. Riley in the formation of the fraternity.

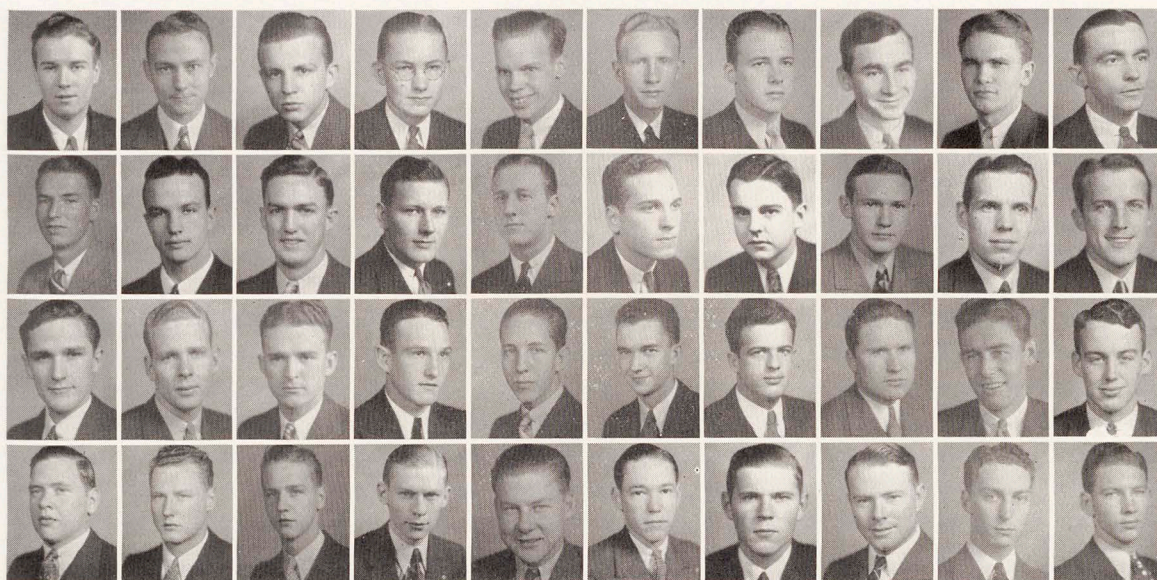

The chapters were not given Greek letter names at first, but were designated by Roman numerals in order of their establishment. There are now ninety-eight active chapters with a total membership of about 29,781.

Official publications include The Delta, quarterly periodical, the Sigma Nu Song Book, The Story of Sigma Nu, and Sigma Nu catalogues.

The Gamma Upsilon chapter was established at the University of Arkansas in 1904.

Pi Kappa Alpha was founded at the University of Virginia March 1, 1898, by Frederick Southgate Taylor, Littleton Waller Tazewell, Julian Edward Wood, Robert Norward, James Benjamin Sclater, and William Alexander. At first the fraternity was sectional, being confined to the South, but conservative expansion has resulted in an organization which is located in the larger institutions throughout the country.

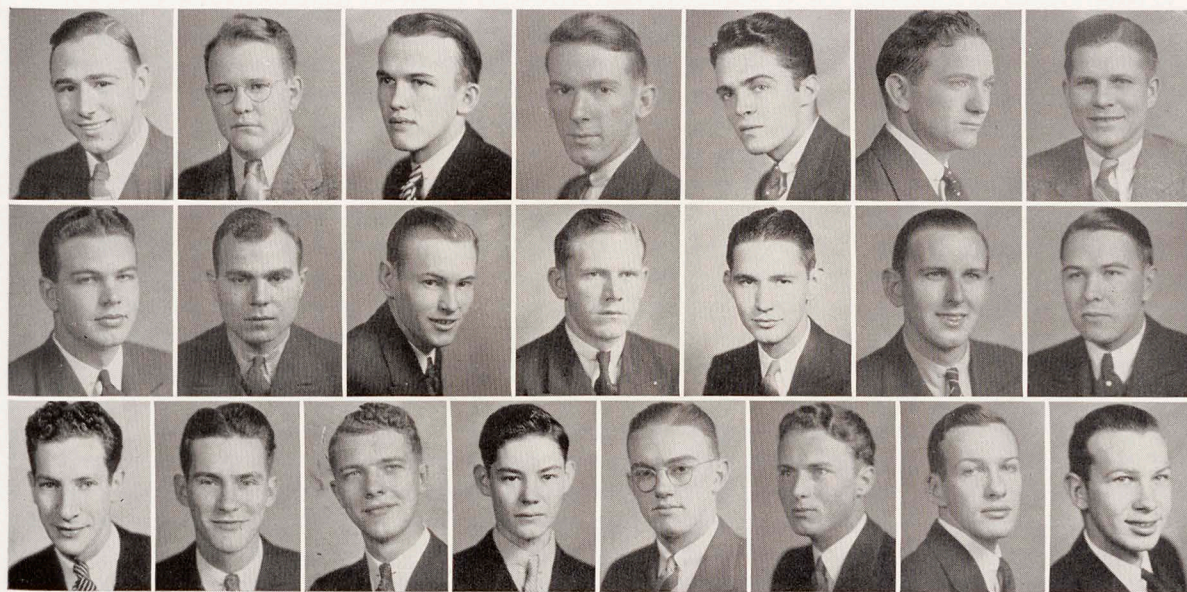

At present the fraternity numbers seventy-nine active chapters, and has numerous active alumni chapters scattered throughout the United States.

Alpha Zeta chapter of the University of Arkansas was chartered November 2, 1904, there being ten charter members. It was established early in the year 1905, and was the first chapter west of the Mississippi.

The Shield and Diamond, the official publication, is issued five times a year, containing news from all the chapters and topics of fraternity interest. The secret publication of the fraternity is the Dagger and Key.

Sigma Chi was founded at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, on June 28, 1855, by Thomas C. Bell, James P. Caldwell, F. H. Lockwood, who, with the exception of the last, had been members of Kappa Chapter of Delta Kappa Epsilon. It was the nineteenth college fraternity founded and the third to be founded at Miami University, the other two being Beta Theta Pi and Phi Delta Theta, which, with Sigma Chi, form the Miami Triad. The fraternity was first announced as Sigma Phi, but in 1856 the name was changed to Sigma Chi, due to the fact that the ritual and records of the chapter were stolen and that there existed at that time an eastern fraternity known as Sigma Phi.

The fraternity was carried on during the Civil War by a very unique group, the Constantine Chapter, which was composed of seven Sigma Chi's who were in the Confederate Army. Its purpose was to perpetuate the fraternity in the South, regardless of the outcome of the war. Two initiations were held and the chapter remained active until the close of the war. Sigma Chi was the first Greek-letter fraternity to adopt a private publication, which was established in 1877.

Sigma Chi consists of 91 chapters that are active, and 20 that are inactive. Two of the chapters are in Canada. The official publication is the Magazine of Sigma Chi.

Sigma Phi Epsilon was founded at Richmond College (now the University of Richmond), Richmond, Virginia, in November, 1901. The basis of the organization was a society called the Saturday Night Club.

One of the features of the fraternity is the financial plan. Concerning this, Baird's Manual says: "In 1916 the Purdue chapter surrendered all its property to the alumni who devised a plan of operation, since copyrighted by the fraternity as the Purdue Plan and now known as the 'Sigma Phi Epsilon Plan of Finance.' Under this plan financial affairs of the chapter are entirely in the hands of the alumni, the inexperienced undergraduate being relieved of this burden and so left free to devote all time to fraternal matters. The plan which worked so successfully at Purdue has been installed in all the chapters."

Arkansas Alpha chapter was installed at the University of Arkansas in 1907. The publication of the order is the Sigma Phi Epsilon Journal, published monthly.

Lambda Chi Alpha, an international fraternity with eighty-four chapters, all active, was an outgrowth of a social and professional organization at Boston University known as the Cosmopolitan Law Club. Founded in 1909, Lambda Chi Alpha has expanded until it now has a wide distribution of chapters at major universities throughout the United States and in Canada.

Headquarters of the general fraternity are at Indianapolis, under the managership of a full-time administrative secretary and his staff. Two traveling secretaries make chapter visitations twice yearly. Lambda Chi Alpha has been cited by the national interfraternity conference as the fraternity initiating more men annually than any other; as the fraternity having the greatest percentage of active chapters; and as one of the fraternities consistently high in scholarship, never ranking below fourth in fraternity scholastic standings.

Gamma-Chi Zeta was chartered at the University of Arkansas in 1925, upon acceptance of a petition submitted by the local social organization Theta Phi Delta. General fraternity publications include "The Cross and Crescent," "The Delta Pi," the "Expositor," the Pledge Training Manual, the Song Book, and the Fraternity Directory.

Theta Kappa Nu was never founded; it was amalgamated. If founding dates back to the first chapter of a fraternity, Theta Kappa Nu was born in 1867 at Culver-Stockton College in Missouri. But in this consolidation decade Theta Kappa Nu represents the merger plan applied to the fraternal world. At a meeting in Springfield, Missouri, in 1924, eight old established locals and a small national fraternity of three chapters assumed the same obligations. Theta Kappa Nu then is unique in having no mother chapters.

There are fifty-five chapters of Theta Kappa Nu. Arkansas Alpha, in accordance with national rules, owns its home. Activities and scholarship have been the stressed features of the local group.

Plans for the future of Arkansas Alpha of Theta Kappa Nu are for intensive improvements in the form of restricted pledging of new men; extensive improvement in favorable publicity as pertains to scholarship, morality, and good will.

Alpha Lambda Tau was founded at Oglethorpe University, October 8, 1916, the first fraternal organization on the campus. The prime motive of the founders was the desire to have a new fraternity grow with a new university. For ten years there was an unconfirmed opinion among the members that the fraternity was to be forever confined to the South. Several years ago, however, this subject was discussed in convention and repudiated. Since then the lone Northern chapter has been established at the University of Illinois. The fraternity was founded to be a national organization, and although expansion has been extremely slow, a national survey has been carried out through the Central Office during the last four years.

The government of the organization is centralized through a Central Office located at Atlanta, Georgia, and a yearly convention in which all chapters participate legislates on important changes and measures affecting the organization.

The fraternity issues a quarterly known as the Rose Leaf and a monthly esoteric publication, The Alt. The first named, during the early years of the fraternity, was issued irregularly, but in recent years has been published regularly.

Alpha Gamma Rho was founded at the University of Illinois, April 4, 1908, by eight students in the College of Agriculture. The purpose of the fraternity is to promote a wider acquaintance and a broader outlook on the part of agricultural men through fellowship in a national organization that stands for the best social, mental, and moral development.

At present the fraternity numbers thirty-three active chapters, and numerous active alumni chapters scattered throughout the United States.

Alpha Iota Chapter of the University of Arkansas was chartered April 29, 1934, there being twenty-five charter members. Previous to this time the chapter existed as a local A. G. R. club.

Kappa Nu was founded at the University of Rochester, November 11, 1911, by six men, who had as their ideals Co-operation, Unity, Brotherhood and Altruism.

The organization, due to a policy of internal strengthening, expanded slowly, until at the present time it has twenty chapters, situated throughout the United States. In 1931 Upsilon Chapter was established on this campus. Thus Kappa Nu brings to Arkansas the first Jewish national fraternity. The chapter previously existed as the Phi Epsilon local fraternity, which was organized in 1930.

The government of the fraternity is vested in an executive committee and a judicial committee, consisting of graduate members, delegates from each chapter, and the national officers. The national headquarters are maintained at Rochester, New York. Alumni chapters are also situated throughout the country.

A national convention is held annually, to which all chapters send delegates. Publications are: The Kappa Nu, a biannual magazine; the Reporter, the confidential bulletin of the national fraternity, which is published monthly; the monthly chapter bulletins, the Kappa Nu Song Book, and the Directory.

Tau Epsilon Phi was founded at Columbia University on October 19, 1910, by Israel Schwartz, Leo H. Fried, Julius J. Slofkin, Harry Goldsmith, Julius Klauber, Robert Blume, Julius M. Breitenbach, Ephraim Freedman, and Charles M. Driesen. It was originally founded as a professional fraternity, but the addition of the chapter at Cornell changed the organization to that of a national collegiate fraternity.

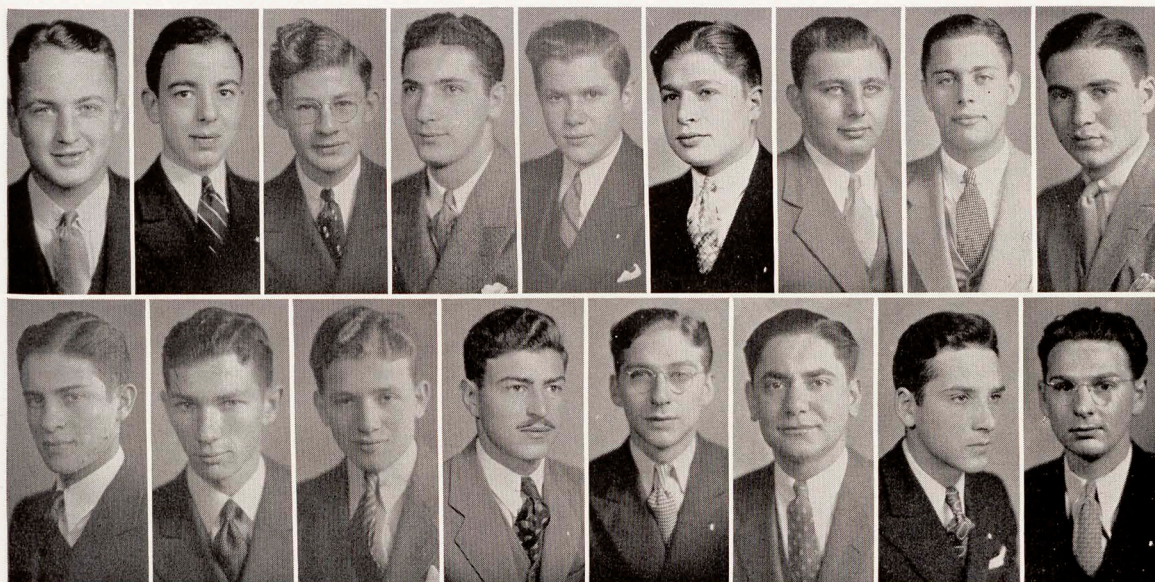

Tau Kappa Chapter of the University of Arkansas was chartered April 29, 1932. The founders are Harold Schwartz, Mac L. Levine, Moe Ushkow, Norman Riskin, Abe Alper, Abram O. Kaplan, Marvin Grossman, Rueben Yontef, and four alumni, Morris Rosenberg, Benjamin Miller, Leo Schwartz, and Maurice Gershman.

At present the fraternity numbers thirty-three chapters and has numerous active alumni chapters scattered throughout the United States.

The official publications are the Plume, published quarterly, and the Bulletin, also a quarterly, but which is distributed only to the members.

By an act of the Arkansas State Legislature in the years 1901-1903 all social fraternities were barred from the campus of the University. As a result history tells us that many new eat and sleep clubs were organized. Some of them resumed their former status with the repeal of the act in '03, others have remained as such up to the present date.

Blue Key, honor fraternity, was founded at the University of Florida, in October, 1924, by Major B. C. Riley. A National organization was established in February, 1925. Blue Key recognizes outstanding qualities in character, scholarship, student activities, leadership, and service. Membership is composed of graduate and undergraduate students of all departments of American Colleges and Universities. Honorary membership is extended to a limited number of faculty members and alumni. The fraternity is committed to co-operate with the faculty; to study student problems; stimulate progress and to promote the interests of the institutions where it has chapters.

The badge is an oblong key of gold on the surface of which appears a spread eagle; in the mouth of the eagle is a wreath; at the feet on the lower left point of the cross is a star; outside of the oval in which these symbols appear, the corners of the key are brilliant azure blue.

Pi Mu Epsilon has grown out of the Math Club, an organization founded at the University of Arkansas on February 11, 1919, by a group of students interested in mathematics. The group was under the direction of Dr. W. L. Miser. The fraternity exists as a laboratory media for the study of higher mathematics.

Among the charter members of the club are A. M. Harding and Davis P. Richardson. E. E. Stevenson, president of the club in 1922, was the recipient of a Rhodes scholarship.

Pi Mu Epsilon requires a candidate for membership to have an average of 4.00 in mathematics. The organization is recognized on the Arkansas campus as a lively one — serving a purpose beyond merely offering itself as another organization for someone to belong to.

The Baptist Student Union is a Southwide movement, and has been in existence since 1920. It includes organizations for each of the seventeen states of the South, as well as for each college within the state. State conventions are held annually and each fourth year meeting is Southwide. This year it was held in Memphis, Tennessee. Twenty-one students from our campus attended, and Richard Greer, of this council, was chosen president of the state B. S. U. for 1934-'35. Edith Mae Hand was elected state publicity manager.

The local council was organized in 1928. It serves as a connecting link between the University and the local Baptist churches. The council is the executive group of the entire union, planning, directing, and stimulating its activities. Through this organization students themselves promote their own religious growth with the advantages of the religious counsel of denominational leaders and with the exchange of religious experiences with local students as well as students throughout the Southland.

Socials, to which all University students are invited, are held every Saturday night in the Y. M. C. A. building. Each morning at 7:40 a large group of students meet at the Y building for singing, scripture reading, and prayer.

The Vigilance Committee, as its name implies, maintains supposed vigil over the life of the lowly freshman, that he may not fall into error. Should he fall into error and walk on the sacred senior walk, or forget to wear the customary green cap on his humbly bowed head woe be unto the freshman if the vigilance committee finds it out. But this year in keeping with the rest of the student government the committee slept soundly on and the hue and cry from the upper classmen was for an active vigilance committee, to carry out the customary penalties on the less observant freshmen. Some of the supposed penalties that the erring frosh were to be given were calling the hogs in the main hall, (much to the disgust of Dean Ripley, etc.) count all of the names on the senior walk, number the steps in the main building, wear baby clothes, and carry out any reasonable command of the Vigilance Committee. There is but one supposed relief for the freshman of 1935, the oppression of the freshmen of the coming year, and we hope that they do a better job than the good government boys did. We shall see?

Wesley Players has found a definite place in the lives of university students interested in dramatics. It is an organization composed of all Methodist young people and their friends, who are interested in dramatic production. This year, under the leadership of Rev. Warren Johnston and David Bateman, the club had given a number of one act plays, and has cooperated with various club and church programs with seasonal plays.

The Hillel Club is an outgrowth of the Menorah Society, established on the campus in 1927. Finding the aims and ideals of Menorah too narrow, the steadily growing group proposed affiliation with the Hillel College Foundations in 1933.

At the present there are approximately fifty active members in the organization, which is a member of the Arkansas Jewish Assembly and is working towards the goal of recognition as a unit of the B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundations.

The purposes of the national organization are the advancement of religious, cultural and social activities among University students, and the local group presents varied programs during the year to foster these principles. Members of the University faculty, students, and members of the clergy deliver addresses regularly to fulfill the cultural aspect, and religious services as well as socials are held at Fort Smith in observance of the other objectives.

Starting anew with a mere handful as a nucleus in September of 1934, the organization has grown greatly in numbers and scope of interests within a single school year due to the untiring efforts of its officers, the earnest interest of its members, and the unselfish assistance of friends on and off the campus.

Honorary members are W. S. Gregson, Professor B. Sure, Professor E. Wertheim, Dean V. L. Jones and Mrs. W. E. Marks and Rabbi Samuel Teitelbaum of Fort Smith.

For a great many years Arkansas has been sadly lacking in a phase of women's activities which is very popular at other co-ed schools, a WOMEN'S RIFLE TEAM.

A group of girls, bound by a common interest in marksmanship and the desire to develop a rifle team for women students at the University, met in February and organized the Women's Rifle Club.

Organization of the club was supervised by Lieutenant M. J. Plishner, Officers Reserve Corps, U. S. Army, who is acting as supervisor and instructor for the group. "Mike," a junior in the College of Arts and Science, gives weekly lectures on marksmanship at the club meetings, and hopes to have a fair team ready to represent the University in intercollegiate competition by next fall.

Approval of the club was secured from the Student Affairs Committee a week after organization, and affiliation with the National Rifle Association will be completed in the very near future.

The function of the Black Cat Cotillion Club at the University is primarily the giving of formal dances, dances that are different, and the kind of dances that the students want, those that are not the conventional student dances.

The Black Cat Cotillion Club was formed with this motive in mind and is recognized by the University as an organization for the promotion of better dances. It is allowed three dances each semester with permission to sponsor these dances given by the chairman of the social committee.

This year the dances that the Black Cat Club has given have been most outstanding and well attended by the socialites of the campus.

Membership to the organization is by groups, with each fraternity being allowed a certain number, according to their size, with a proportionate number from each group, including the organized groups.

The administration of the club is from the cabinet, which is composed of one member from each group represented in the organization. From this representative group are chosen the officers for the year.

The football band, as it is called, plays at all of the football and basket-ball games, and is the official pep band, while the R. O. T. C. band plays for all of the official regimental parades and reviews.

The Editor wishes to express his appreciation to the Deans of the various schools, to the Dean of Women, and the Dean of Men, for their co-operation in the careful selection of the Who's Who section for the 1935 RAZORBACK. You will notice in the presentment of this section all the various reasons why the selections made are given.

THE ARMED FORCES

By MAJOR J. M. WHITE

COINCIDENT with the founding of the "Arkansas Industrial University" at Fayetteville in 1872 a cadet corps was established in order to meet the requirements of a land grant college authorized by the so called Morrill Act which was passed by the Federal Congress in 1862.

During the past sixty-three years, military training has been continuously offered, although quite varied in nature and circumstances. Until recent years the number of officers on duty was restricted to one and when the War Department failed to provide, a civilian or professor in the University acted as head of the department.

Beginning with the year 1893, all male students were required to drill four times each week. This policy was continued until 1912 when training for Seniors became optional. In 1915 the training for Juniors became optional and drill was reduced to two hours each week. In 1916 the Reserve Officers' Training Corps was established and, for the first time, the Federal Government furnished uniforms which, prior to that time, had been purchased by the individual student.

During the past ten years the department has developed and improved very rapidly. Additional officers have been detailed, the War Department has exercised a closer supervision over the instruction and the unit is now definitely a part of the National defense which was originally contemplated under the old Morrill Act of 1862.

MAJOR J. M. WHITE—Military training is one of the outstanding features of our University. Major White, now serving his third year as chief of the University of Arkansas' Reserve Officers' Training Corps, has through his efficient administration maintained an excellent Military Department.

REGIMENTAL HEADQUARTERS STAFF

First Row: G. P. Groves, Cadet Colonel; L. Lee Cline, Lieutenant Colonel; Edwin Hopson, Regimental Adjutant Second Row: J. A. Baker, Major First Battalion; Karl Bowman, Major Second Battalion; A. A. Chidester, Major Third Battalion
 Third Row: Ed Bell, First Battalion Adjutant; John Stanley, Second Battalion Adjutant; Neal West, Third Battalion Adjutant

The office of Regimental Commander, filled by Cadet Colonel Groves, is one of the most coveted of offices on the University campus. Ordinarily the most outstanding and most promising of the Senior officers is chosen by the Commandant for this post. Three hard years of military work are well worth the honor that the fortunate one attains his senior year. Colonel Groves reviews the troops at all military parades and escorts Regimental Sponsor Hardin during the Grand March at the Military Ball.

REGIMENTAL SPONSOR

Miss Catherine Hardin

To be named sponsor of the R. O. T. C. Regiment by an all-cadet vote is an honor of which one may be justly proud. Regimental Sponsor Hardin fills this office with all the military bearing and dignity which become it. She not only presides over the Military Ball, and leads the grand march with the Cadet Colonel, but she presents the cadet commissions and reserve commissions to the officers of the corps, attended by the other cadet sponsors.

Pershing Rifles, a national honorary military fraternity for basic students of R. O. T. C. units, was founded in 1893 by John J. Pershing. It was formed on the principles of promoting interest in military work, developing men of greater value to the R. O. T. C. and O. R. C., and inciting proficiency in drill.

The local unit, Company F of the Second Regiment, was organized by Captain C. S. Myers, who conducted a series of tryouts to select the outstanding sophomores in the R. O. T. C. unit. The petition to Pershing Rifles resulted in the establishment of a chapter of the organization here on February 24, 1934.

The Arkansas varsity rifle team has won three consecutive championships, hanging up one world record in past years.

At the time this book goes to press Hearst Match competition was unfinished. However, three varsity men who helped Arkansas win more medals than any other team at the Iowa State shoot last year are back again, and Arkansas' record should be good.

This year under the direction of Captain R. C. Akins the construction of the modern indoor rifle range under the Chi Omega Amphitheater was completed. It is the plan of the military department to act as host to other rifle teams in the Corps Area for competitive matches.

MASTERS OF THEIR CRAFT

The most famous sword maker of the 16th century was Andrew Ferara, an Italian. Hammering every part of the blade from steel of his own manufacture ... his swords exist today as masterpieces of his art.

When a man makes a product of the finest quality, it is with pardonable pride that he places his name upon it. The maker's imprint, accompanied by traditions of skill and high standards of honest dealings, becomes the customer's guarantee of highest quality and satisfaction.

Emulating the old masters of sword making, Southwestern craftsmen put their finest work into every engraving bearing the SWECO imprint. It is your guarantee of painstaking care ... of a superior printing plate.

We are proud to proclaim that the engravings in this volume were made by Southwestern craftsmen.

STUDENTS' CODE OF N. R. A.

Rule 1. No sorority member shall be allowed more than forty dating hours a week. Late dates must be counted in on this time or the Poor Fish badges will be taken from them.

Rule 2. All men employing one of the fairer sex for more than twenty of her forty hours must pay for such entertainment with one movie, four cokes, and a package of cigarettes. If the employee is kept overtime she is entitled to time and a half pay which consists of a sandwich to accompany at least two of the cokes.

Rule 3. All football men shall be arbitrarily passed in any subject which they care to be exposed to. There will be no exceptions to this rule except in the case of Mickey Spencer and similar hopeless incidents.

Rule 4. No one person is allowed more than five kicks and one down at any student dance. Violation of this rule must bar the offender from all but the high school week struggle.

Rule 5. Politicians may not bribe or otherwise influence voters except from sunrise to sunrise.

Special Attention to Student Parties

In view of the fact that there have been no arrangements made in the new buildings for the incorporation of a recreation room, we suggest the following games to be played in the library. Just good clean fun for diligent studes.

1. WHO'S GOT THE BOOK?

The player who is it approaches the librarian with a slip of paper on which is inscribed hieroglyphics resembling 337,992

Hr3m

The librarian is allowed ten minutes for deciphering the above clue. She then hides in the book stacks for fifteen minutes. At the end of this time she may return and say, "It is not in."

Each player repeats this process and the winner is he who shows the greatest control of temper.

2. STUDYING

This game is suitable for any number. There are ten chairs at each table but at least half of them must be filled with coats, books, etc.

Each player takes a book—any book—which he places on the table before him. He then

1. Looks at the girl across the table
2. Looks at the girl at the end of the table
3. Just looks
4. Walks around the room stumbling over as many chairs and tables as possible
5. Goes to sleep with head on table

The player who is best able to bull in class the next day is awarded the prize.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

The Sleep and Eat boys way up on the hill adhere to the legend of their fraternity flower and are shrinking violets. Ask one of them what organization he belongs to and you'll be able to hear him shout Sig Alph for only four miles. With Prexy Gaston Williamson leaving for England the boys turned things over to Billie Lee, who should take excellent care of the new men next year, considering the paternal instincts he has shown recently.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

Under the sign of the three triangles reside those fair damsels who wear the crescent and stars and swear by Marj Hunt (the rest of us just swear at her). With Hilda Stroud to put things over in a big way the girlyies have gone far this year toward putting Freshman Queen Ruth Clay in running for the position most talked about woman on campus that the blond named first above has held for a number of years. Their flower is the pansy. We wonder why.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

They have a new house. Now if the boys could just get rid of Georgie-Porgie Kerr everything should be easy sailing. With such brawny men as the Kellys and Pinkie Robbins the Lambda Chis should have stood up better under the burglar scare. Better stop sleeping with those shovels and iron pipes, fellows, you'll never get ahead that way.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

Their key must stand for freedom of the shes. However, it has failed to unlock the door to much on the Arkansas campus. Maybe the lassies who reside so high on the hill will find another skeleton key that will open the treasure house like the one that made Kenney queen of the studes several years ago.

ALPHA LAMBDA TAU

Little has been heard from the A. L. T.'s this year. Perhaps they are resting on the laurels they won last year in the famous battle of the Hill when the Sigma Chis with manly stride marched against them in an attempt to free the white cross from the mud spots placed on it when an As Usualer got a little too free with his opinions. Perhaps the lads are waiting for another great emancipator. And could it be that they have one in Gigolo L. A. Graham?

THETA KAPPA NU

Seldom heard of the T. K. N.'s have entrusted their future to James Starbird, who should be able to make enough hot wind around the campus to make those few stray Kansans feel perfectly at home and suffer no nostalgia for their beloved dust storms. At least, he'll have to throw dust in the rushees' eyes next year.

SIGMA CHI

White cross wearers finally gained much sought after fame when the two-hundred-pounder at the circus glided through the air a la butterfly to the lilting strains of Sweetheart of Sigma Chi. Home of the stray Greeks, the lodge would be better off for a few less Jo Donahues and a few more football players.

These co-eds wear an anchor above each beating heart, but we've never been successful in our attempts to discover just what they were anchored to. Perhaps they are relying on the strong rock of their national to weather them through all storms—but where are the Marianna Buttses of Delta Gamma?

KAPPA SIGMA

The Kappa Sigs were founded by a group of teahounds at the University of Virginia immediately after the Civil War, when all the South felt despondent. Many Southerners committed suicide. Others disdained the easier course and pledged Kappa Sig. The queer-looking thing on the crescent of their pin is a skull and not a portrait of Jack Young.

CHI OMEGA

The Chi Omega house is four walls surrounding three couches, two famous love seats, and one lamp. In spite of the fact that in one hour seventeen men and twelve women were seen to pass through the front door, Chi Omega, dear reader, is a sorority, not a fraternity. And the men (in case you are interested) were merely taking a short cut to the Pi Phi house for their dates.

SIGMA NU

Gaining the Green Tree apartments made the boys lose a grade point, but the serpent still carries on. In spite of the ditty they sing on all occasions about “lots of pretty girls today fall for the snake in the same old way” or some such nonsense, there have been no outstanding romantic achievements by the Sigma Nus unless you want to consider Buck Nobles’ carrying the torch for Marianna and Lawyer Neblett still standing high with Hebe after a year of competition.

PI BETA PHI

The Pi Phis hibernate in that Spanish looking house which probably means hot latin blood or something or other. Their pin is the arrow which sometimes finds an easy mark. Last year they excelled even themselves and pledged all the girls the Tri Delts, Delta Gams, Kappas, Z. T. A.'s, and Chi Omegas didn't want.

Oi! Oi! And the New Yorkers buy a goat. Perhaps they were growing lonesome for the great (in his own mind) Theodore Finkle. At any rate drop in their new house and see them some time. The goat is really entertaining.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

The letters of this fraternity stand for "Sots Par Excellent." The motto is "Drink Until Drunk" but many of the boys following Big Chief Yauch don't stop there. Anyway, their heart is on the right side.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Someone asked us the other day why the Pi K. A.'s were known everywhere as the gentlemen who could drink all comers under the table, or what-have-you. Please refer all questions to Brother Paul Johnson. The boys' greatest asset is that black diamond in the rough, Thad.

SCABBARD AND BLADE

Scabbard and Blade was founded a few years ago by a group of students who wanted to get their pictures in the Razorback. It is humorously known on the campus as an honorary military fraternity, and its members are sometimes mistaken for soldiers by an especially near-sighted old lady. The most outstanding accomplishment by any of its members this year was the dunking Van Albertson affectionately gave Ed Bell on the occasion of the initiation hike. Ed has since been known as Admiral Bell.

HURRAH FOR THE BARBS!

Four-ten is our chapter house,
The Southerner is our stude,
To none are we snooty,
To none are we rude.

We don't give a damn
For the best Greek on earth.
We put them where they are;
We know what they're worth.

TO THE CAMPUS POLITICIAN

You own the town, or think you do;
And that includes the Mayor, too,
And every Judge and every cop
From the bottom to the very top.
Go chase yourself and get the air;
Why, you don't own the shirt you wear.

"What's this?" asked the professor.
"My Mae West papers," answered the student.
"What do you mean?" asked the professor.
"I done 'em wrong," came the reply.

FAITH—HOPE—CHARITY

Within twenty-four hours figure out a list of prospects, make enough copies to go around, stick your name on the top line, and hope for the best. It may work and bring you prosperity.

In dropping the name from the top line, mail that person a new dime. This will buy a schooner of beer and will be a real opportunity to help out with a charity donation. Don't worry about the other names—they probably don't drink.
